New Bank Of Marin Buys Elks Land For $355,150

The new Bank of Marin bought the San Rafael Elks Club property last night on a bid of $355,150, which was $150 more than the "minimum return" figure set by vote of the membership of Elks Lodge 1108 last month.

Bank officials said architects are setting to work immediately on plans for thoroughly modern premises which will include drive-in facilities, ample parking, and perhaps space for rental.

Razing of the present Elks Club is presumed to be necessary. This and the new construction are expected to require about a year, during which time the bank will remain in its present temporary quarters at 836 Fourth Street, San Rafael.

With 200-foot frontage on Fifth Avenue and the same on B Street, the property covers virtually an acre.

The Bank of Marin provided a written bid, the sole one and opened at offices of lodge attorneys Nelson, Boyd, Menary and MacDonald at 5 p.m. yesterday. When the time came for receipt of oral bids at 6 p.m. at the lodge premises, the bank's bid as already submitted by attorney Bryan R. McCarthy was not challenged, though a considerable group was present.

"The Elks Club property has for many years been considered a prime San Rafael business location and we are indeed pleased that it will become the future home of the Bank of Marin," said William P. Murray Jr., bank president, today.

He noted that in its first four months the independent homeowned institution has accumulated over five million dollars in deposits, with assets at seven million dollars, Murray said acquisition of the property is in line with this progress.

"We have taken an aggressive attitude in our long-range planning," he said, "because of our confidence in the continued growth of San Rafael and Marin County.

"In order that this central business corner be put to its best use it is contemplated that the bank's new quarters will be part of a substantial building program. We believe this is in keeping with the current trend establishing Fifth Avenue as the financial center of Marin County."

The three other corners are occupied by buildings of the Bank of America, Northwestern Savings and Loan Assn., and the Independent-Journal Building.

D.C.-Moscow Direct Link Is Asked Again

GENEVA (AP)—The United States said today a direct, secret communications link between Washington and the Kremlin would greatly reduce the danger of accidental nuclear war.

U.S. Ambassador Charles C. Stelle told the 17-nation disarmament conference it should discuss the establishment of such a link as a matter of urgency.

The proposal was first made to the conference last year but has never come up for discussion as the delegates concentrated on a treaty to ban nuclear tests.

IN DEADLOCK

Faced with deadlock on this issue, delegates decided to move on to a discussion of general disarmament and other measures to reduce the risk of war.

Stelle clashed with Soviet Delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin over a Soviet proposal for an East-West nonaggression pact.

Tsarapkin said such a pact is urgently needed to curb West German's militarists, and he demanded that it be taken up by the conference now.

Stelle replied that the conference was not competent to discuss the matter because most of the interested governments are not represented.

SECOND PLACE

Tsarapkin assailed the Nassau U.S.-British agreements for a multinational nuclear deterrent. He charged the West German government is striving to take second place behind the United States in the North Atlantic Organization and was "openly embarked on a course of nuclear waste."

Stelle said Tsarapkin's speech was a "long and irrelevant diatribe."

"I must take exception to the statement of the Soviet representative attacking the peaceful people and government of he German Federal Republic," Stelle declared.

The session ended with no agreement on what measures for reducing the risk of war should be taken up by the conference.

Marin's Budget May Go Over $15 Million

Marin County's budget for the next fiscal year may be well over 15 million dollars, Auditor Michael Mitchell said today.

The budget for the current fiscal year is $14,217,000.

Mitchell said he has received 27 of 31 departmental budgets so far, and "overall, the requests are considerably higher than last year."

Heaviest increases in proposed budgets are in the public works and welfare departments, Mitchell said. Budgets not received yet included two major departments, sheriff's and planning. Mitchell said he expected all proposed budgets to be in his office by 5 p.m. today.

Although the deadline for preliminary budgets was Monday, Mitchell said preparation of budgets on schedule was "much better this year than last."

"This is the first time we've had the public works budget on time," he said.

The preliminary budgets will be reviewed by Mitchell and County Administrator Alan Bruce between March 25 and April 5. The board of supervisors will begin budget hearings June 12, and the final budget will be ready for adoption Aug. 20. The county tax rate for 1963-64 will be determined before Aug. 31.

S.P., Clerks Agree On Binding Arbitration

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Southern Pacific and the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks have agreed to submit their differences to a three-man presidential panel for binding arbitration.

But not everyone involved is happy about it.

James Weaver, president of the S. P. unit of clerks, expressed disapproval of the agreement to arbitrate that was made in Washington, D. C., by Clerks International President George Harrisson Thursday. Weaver said President John F. Kennedy was misinformed about how close together the union and railroad were when he suggested submitting the dispute to arbitration.

"The main issues are not resolved and Mr. O'Neill Federal Mediator Frank ONeill has misled the president of the United States into an offer of arbitration and used the prestige of the president to try to blackjack us into a position where we will fail to get a good agreement," Weaver said.

Calling the agreement to arbitrate "highly conditional," Weaver said he felt that negotiations could have been continued to the union's advantage.

The three-man arbitration board will be selected by the union and the railroad, each side picking one man. If both sides cannot agree on the third member of the board, President Kennedy will name him.

The union claims it has lost 1,000 workers a year since 1958 to automation and procedural efficiency boosts by the company. They want the company to let natural worker attrition trim the worker rolls, retaining workers displaced by new methods or machines to fit them for other work.

The railroad has claimed that such restrictions would cripple it in competition with other transporters.

French Railroads Paralyzed By Strike

PARIS (AP)—A 24-hour strike paralyzed France's nationalized railways. The coal strike entered its third week. And President de Gaulle's government still had come up with no answer to the mounting labor troubles.

Most suburban and long-distance trains stopped running shortly after 4 p.m.

100 Cubans Leave

Bridge Unit On Fence Over Deck

After hearing 12 speakers evenly divided between proponents and opponents of constructing a second deck for the Golden Gate Bridge, the bridge district's building and operating committee today sat on the fence with a decision merely to take the matter under advisement.

Report to this effect will be made to the full board at 10:30 a.m. March 29. Ten of the board's 14 members comprise the committee under chairmanship of Dan E. London of San Francisco.

Seven bridge directors, half the full board and including Marin director Thomas D. Hardcastle of Novato, promised the San Francisco Board of Supervisors yesterday to go slow on a second deck.

Marin's other director, Leland S. Murphy of Inverness, today shared the general view

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —Doctor Maxwell Rafferty today declared he had no evidence of any "imbalance to the left" among faculty members at any California junior college.

Rafferty, whose earlier statements had included junior colleges with state colleges, said today the statements were "entirely in regard to letters on state colleges."

He said he was referring to some 100 letters he said his office has received, 90 of which complained of the imbalance among members of state college faculties.

Snow, Hail Reported; Rain Due

Snow fell on Mount Tamalpais. There was thunder in Mill Valley. And it hailed in some parts of Marin.

But yesterday's storm, which made a lot of noise and was accompanied by the freakish snow and hail, produced little moisture in the county.

The highest amount of rain reported fell in Larkspur and Point Reyes Station, where .46 of an inch was measured.

More rain was forecast for tonight and tomorrow, with snow mentioned for the Sierra only.

A fine snow fell at the 666th Radar Squadron on Mount tamalpais between 2 and 3 p.m. yesterday. "It melted as it hit the ground," according to Lt. John A. Langston, information officer.

Early today it snowed again on top of the mountain. At 8 a.m. there was snow on tops of cars and some buildings but nothing on the ground.

Lower down on the mountain, at Pan Toll Ranger Station in Mount Tamalpais State Park, park supervisor George E. Holmboe said it hailed at 2 p.m. and 6 p.m. yesterday.

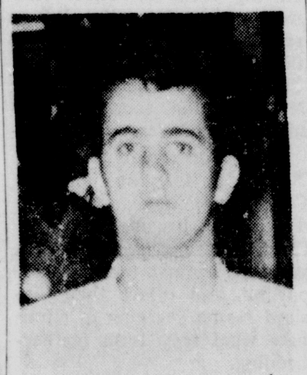

Hail was also reported in Tamalpais Valley and San Rafael. Thunder was reported during the storm by Ralph Dilcher at the Mill Valley Sewage Treatment Plant.

Rainfall in the county included: Chevy Chase district of Larkspur, .38; Woodacre, .34; Novato, .26; San Anselmo, .25; Muir Woods, .18; Mill Valley, 15.; San Rafael .13; Tamalpais Valley, .12; Sausalito, 08, and belvedere, .01.

JOHN WALTER KAMP
Ninth traffic death

Boy Dies Of Injuries After Head-On Crash

John Walter Karp, 19, of San Rafael, died at Marin General Hospital at 1:15 a.m. today from injuries he received in a high speed crash on Bolinas Avenue in Ross Wednesday afternoon.

His death is the ninth traffic fatality of the year. Last year at this time there were five traffic deaths.

Young Karp, who hoped to enter College of Marin next fall, was a graduate of San Rafael High School. He had lived in San Rafael three and one-half years.

Two others with him, were still in the hospital today. William Jurvig, 17, of 60 Scenic Avenue, San Rafael, remained unconscious. He suffered a broken arm and leg, facial cuts and head injuries. His condition was said fair.

Marcia Gerson, 15, of 73 Rutherford Avenue, San Anselmo, was in satisfactory condition today.

All three went through the windshield of Karp's car when it struck an elm tree near Oak Avenue after leaving 228 feet of skid marks.

Ross police have still been unable to determine whether Karp was the driver.

Karp's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Karp of 6 H Street, said today they believed their son had just dropped off a friend at her home in San Anselmo when the crash occurred.

Other survivors include two sisters, Judith Diane, 14, and Marsha Lynn, 13.

Young Karp was born in Topeka, Kan. He had lived in California most of his life.

The body was taken to Harry M. Williams Mortuary where an autopsy was to be conducted today.

DeKaplany Sentenced To Life In Prison

SAN JOSE (UPI)—It took just three minutes to sentence Dr. Geza deKaplany to life imprisonment for the acid murder of his wife.

Superior Judge Raymond G. Callaghan, who presided over deKaplany's two month trial ordered the 37-year-old physician sent first to the California Medical Facility at Vacaville for psyciatric examination.

PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — President John F. Kennedy flew to sunny Florida today for a weekend of relaxing and preparation for next week's Central American conference.

Three Wells Span Revocation Asked

Revocation of G. C. Kott's encroachment permit for his bridge in the vicinity of Mill Valley's Three Wells Park was recommended to the Mill Valley City Council yesterday by members of the Outdoor Art Club.

And, in a letter to the council, Mrs. John R. Barnard claimed city maps are "at variance" with a survey of Three Wells made by surveyor A. H. Dakin. She held the city is obligated to resolve the dispute regarding the present "apparent encroachment" and intent of the Tamalpais Land and Water Co., of which she is a stockholder, was to "prevent anything of the nature of Kott's bridge from happening."

Outdoor Art Club members asked the city council "to take all necessary steps to assure that the beauty of Cascade Canyon, and especially of the Three Wells area, is protected, by revoking if possible the encroachment permit for this bridge, and drawing up safeguards against careless bulldozing, installation of sewer lines and further bridging."

The club questioned legality of the bridge, and called the bridge "not a thing of beauty but purely utilitarian."

The city has issued both a building permit and encroachment permit to Kott, a Mill Valley developer, and the bridge has been built, although it has not been fully completed. It is located in the 400 block of Cascade Drive 33 feet over city right of way in the vicinity of Three Wells Park. Three Wells was so named after three basins in natural rock in Cascade Creek.

PARIS (UPI)—France plans an underground nuclear explosion in the Sahara Sunday if conditions are favorable, reliable French sources said today.

There was no official confirmation. But Algerian government sources in Algiers also reported that the explosion was believed to be "imminent."

The explosion was expected to take place at In-Ecker in the remote Hoggar Mountains in the extreme southern desert part of Algeria.

Gravely wounded and not expected to live was a man identified as Ernest Boxmann, a German-born American. Police said he had shot himself in the temple.

The hotel where the shootings occurred lies at the foot of Rome's famed nightlife strip—the Via Veneto. Police said the victims had rooms on the same floor of the hotel, but not adjoining.

The producer said he will announce Soraya's first picture in a few months.

Fanfani Coalition Threatened

ROME (UPI) — Premier Amintore Fanfani's shaky "center-left" coalition slipped closer to collapse today with a threat from Socialist Leader Pietro Nenni that he may resume his friendship with the Communists.

In a statement defending his postwar opposition to the Atlantic Pact, Nenni said he might side with the Reds if the country's government turned to the right.

"If Italian politics moved toward social progress the left-wing Socialists would be with the government," Nenni said.

Bidault Continues His Fight

MUNICH (UPI)—Former French Premier Georges Bidault said today he would go "to the end of the earth" to continue his efforts to overthrow President Charles de Gaulle.

Bidault said he would like to stay in West Germany to continue his fight against de Gaulle, and asked the West German government to spell out the exact terms it would impose in giving him permanent or temporary asylum.

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Winter started its last week of a three-month stand today with a sampling of spring-like weather in the major part of the nation.

But there were some wet spots in the West, with snow and rain moving from the Pacific Northwest and Northern California into Idaho and western Utah. Snow fell in higher elevations but amounts were mostly light.

Still Many Soviets Stationed In Cuba

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Russia appeared today to be keeping its promise to remove "several thousand" military personnel from Cuba by mid-March, but the great bulk of the Soviet forces remained.

U.S. officials said almost 2,000 Soviet personnel had been pulled out during the past month, and a ship now loading appeared capable of carrying nearly 1,500 additional. They acknowledged this would barely meet the accepted idea of "several thousand."

American officials indicated some uncertainty as to whether the Russians leaving included any of the 5,000 men in four combat battalions. The United States estimated a month ago that there were 17,000 Soviet military personnel in Cuba.

Three in five American workers go to work in automobiles, one in eight uses public transportation and one in 10 walks to work.

Rail Dispute In Standoff Position

CHICAGO (AP) — A standoff between negotiators for the nation's railroads and chiefs of five operating unions in a work rules dispute continued today despite prodding by Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz.

Wirtz, in a statement last night in Washington, requested the railroads and brotherhoods representing 200,000 on-train employees to resume negotiations immediately in the four-year-old dispute.

The latest efforts to reach agreement collapsed Wednesday after a 90-minute session. A move from Washington to get both sides back to the bargaining table and avert a possible national rail strike had been regarded as certain.

COURT RULING

At stake are 65,000 jobs, including those of 40,000 firemen which the railroads say are unnecessary for the operation of modern rail equipment. The U.S. Supreme Court held March 4 the carriers could make the changes.

Wirtz said it will take until March 29 for the Supreme Court decision regarding the dispute to become effective. Until then an injunction is outstanding against the carriers' putting into effect their desired manpower cuts to eliminate what they term featherbedding.

The rail union chiefs, who have remained in Chicago since Wednesday's meeting, indicated last night they were pleased with Wirtz' action.

'WILLING, READY'

"This thing has to be settled across the bargaining table," said Charles Luna president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen said. "We're willing and ready to negotiate.

James E. Wolfe, chief negotiator for the carriers, expressed surprise at the labor secretary's statement.

"I talked to Mr. Wirtz by telephone this (Thursday) morning," he said, "and he gave no indication he was going to make this request."

Wolfe had indicated Wednesday he favored third-party intervention in the dispute, saying it appeared further direct negotiations would be useless.

Kennedy May Meet Some Violence

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Communist world has pulled out all the stops to denounce President John F. Kennedy's meeting, opening Monday, with Central-American presidents. An attempt to provoke violence during the meeting cannot be ruled out.

The meeting will be in San Jose, Costa Rica, and will be concerned to a large extent with the menace of Fidel Castro.

Costa Rica's Communist party appears to have arranged an alibi in advance should those intent on harassing the meeting succeed in breaking through the heavy security arrangements.

Manuel Mora Valverde, a leader of the Costa Rican party, announced publicly that the Communist party would not accept the blame for any "physical measures against the presidents" during the meeting.

From Moscow, in Spanish-language broadcasts to Central America, have come denunciations of the meeting as "a new plot against Cuba and the peoples of Central America."

The Castroist People's Vanguard party of Costa Rica has been issuing declarations in leaflet form appealing to the people to "raise the standard of national sovereignty and peace as well as to fight for the enforcement of the principles of nonintervention and the right of nations for self-determination."

Daniel Oduber, Costa Rican foreign minister, has not ruled out the possibility of a try from Cuba at violence during the meeting. He announced that whatever security measures are taken will be "directed againsat small hostile groups sent here to obstruct the presidents' conference."

FLYING METAL—Pieces of corrugated sheet metal from a newly-constructed car-wash at Dinuba are wrapped around power lines as the result of a tornado-like wind which ripped through the community last night. Bits of metal were found as far away as one-half mile.

Big Wind Hits Town In Tulare

DINUBA, Tulare County (AP) — A swirling tornado-like wind that blasted Dinuba in the night and snow, rain and hail to the north ended an early spring for Northern and Central Californians.

People in this town of 6,000 located close to the middle of the state never saw a tornado before so they're still not sure what it was that whipped throught the community yesterday.

No deaths or injuries were reported. An estimate of damage was not made.

The wind hit with the noise of a thunderclap. It touched down hard on a two-block square downtown section, then made a u-turn, returning at reduced velocity for a pass at the residential section.

Dinuba Police Capt. John Davidian was sitting in the police station when he heard a radio report from a patrol car.

"I just saw a roof fly by," said the voice as the lights went out in the station.

Police patrols found most plate glass windows downtown shattered. Roofs were missing from some buildings.

The entire area was darkened because power lines had been blown down. Power remained out in some places for the night. Police blockaded the downtown area.

Trees were uprooted in downtown and residential sections. Two garage roofs were blown onto grounds of Dinuba High School.

An unusual snow hit coastal mountains in the northern part of California. Six inches fell near Gasquet close to the Oregon border, a large amount for the area in March.

The Weather Bureau forecast more of the same stormy conditions for today.

Rain and hail were reported throughout Northern California.

San Francisco received .08 inch of rain and a hail storm. Sacramento also experienced hail and .14 inch of rain.

Battles Brew Over College Drinking, Education, Water

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Squabbles over college drinking, education policy and water plan financing were brewing in the legislature today.

The Assembly Government Organization Committee recommended banning bars and liquor stores within 1.5 miles of new college campuses. Opponents said it would be useless because students have cars.

Max Rafferty, superintendent of public instruction, accepted an invitation for a closed-door discussion of educational policy with the Assembly Education Committee at a time not yet fixed.

The committee, obviously concerned about the bickering over school legislation, asked for the meeting. Rafferty said he was agreeable to whatever the legislature wants.

Water Resources Director William E. Warne released a report on the Brown administration's proposal to issue 325 million dollars in bonds authorized for the Central Valley Project in 1933 to help finance the Feather River Project.

Long Distance Calls Low Rates Considered

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. officials agreed Wednesday to consider special low rates for nighttime long distance calls—if a similar nationwide proposal goes into effect next month.

The question came up at a State Public Utilities Commission hearing. It was noted that if federal authorities approve a plan submitted by American Telephone and Telegraph Co. for low rates after 9 p.m., it would cost a Los Angeles subscriber more to call San Francisco than to place a similar call to New York.

Anti-Transit Bill Might Be Withdrawn

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Assemblyman Jerome R. Waldie (D-Antioch) says he may withdraw a bill that transit officials contend would kill the three-county San Francisco Bay Area Rapid Transit District.

The Assembly majority leader argues the district would unfairly tax residents in eastern Contra Costa County.

Yesterday Wallace L. Kaapcke, the district's general counsel, said he would seek a resolution giving priority to eastern Contra Costa if and when future extensions are approved.

Waldie said if the resolution meets with his satisfaction, he will withdraw the bill.

Kaapcke said the measure would "wreck" the district and nullify last year's election in which voters in San Francisco, Alameda and Contra Costa approved a 792-million-dollar bond issue.

Prison Population

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—California's prison population on Jan. 31 was 24,326 inmates, the State Department of Corrections reports.

Group Lists Knowland As A Favorite Son

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A conservative group today listed former Sen. William F. Knowland as a 4 to 1 choice for favorite son candidate if Sen. Barry Goldwater stays out of California's 1964 Republican presidential primary.

Knowland, who retired from the Senate to unsuccessfully seek the governorship in 1958, said it was the first he had heard of it and declined comment.

The Oakland newspaper publisher told a reporter that he has no present plans to return to public life. He also has been mentioned as a possible 1964 opponent of Sen. Clair Engle (D-Calif.).

The favorite son support for Knowland turned up in a statewide fund-raising drive by the Citizens Committee of California, Inc., formed to draft Goldwater.

Three Die In Blast At Plant

ALLENTOWN, Pa. (UPI) — Three men were killed and eight others injured today in a fire and explosion which wrecked a building of the Trojan Powder So. six miles from here.

The explosion which rocked a wide area and sent a column of smoke soaring high into the sky, left only two concrete walls of the building standing.

The bodies of Clair Metzger, 27, Germansville; Harold Henry, 50, Lynnport, and Carl Bleiler, 23, New Tripoli, were recovered from beneath the crumbled concrete.

The eight injured, none seriously, were taken to the Allentown Hospital by volunteer ambulance and rescue squads which raced to the scene. About 25 other persons were in the building when the fire started, but they managed to scramble to safety.

The wrecked building was one of many scattered in the isolated area which fences off a five mile section of Whitehall Township. There are no communities nearby.

The explosion was believed to have been caused by a fire which touched off powder used in the manufacture of dynamite. A second fire roared out of control for more than an hour, witnesses said.

Judge Tosses Out County Farm Fight

The case of two senior citizens, who got into a brawl at Marin County Hospital and Farm Wednesday morning, was tossed out of court today by Judge Joseph G. Wilson.

Frank Gagnon, 84, retired builder, had accused Thomas McNicholas, 70, retired carpenter, of attacking him and knocking him to the floor. They are room-mates at the county farm.

Gagnon testified that McNicholas, a "very powerful man," attacked him for no reason. McNicholas, who defended himself, said he was "just clowning."

"I'm not young any more," the 84-year-old Gagnon sobbed bitterly. "If I was 74, maybe I would be all right."

The judge declared this is a type of case that should be handled administratively at the county farm and not brought before criminal court. He warned McNicholas to refrain from "clowning" hereafter and sent both men back to the county farm with a suggestion that they be placed in different rooms.

that prudent inaction is dictated.

Marin County Supervisor Peter Behr, who had been asked by his fellow supervisors to attend the meeting, didn't favor the study of another deck but asked for a feasibility study as to possibility of bus operation by the bridge board, also of ferry operation and another bridge at another place.

London confirmed there was possibility of a San Francisco supervisorial resolution opposing expansion of bridge capacity if the board failed to keep the promise of half its members to sound out opinion throughout the district before any action on a second deck.

Stabbed Inmate Improves Some

Arthur Charles Martinez, 28, a prisoner stabbed beneath the heart with a knife fashioned from a spatula at San Quentin Prison yesterday morning, was in improved condition but still on the critical list at the prison hospital today.

Reason for the attack is still not known, Frady said.

Mistake About One-Way Road Ends In Crash

A nearly head-on automobile crash under the Richardson Bay Bridge's north end was blamed yesterday on error of a woman driver in thinking she was on a one-way road.

Richard F. Misuraca of 21 Meda Lane, Mill Valley, a salesman, was northbound on the frontage road at 10:35 a.m. As he rounded the curve under the bridge he was confronted by a car driven by Mrs. Jean M. Nelson of 342 Via Hidalgo, Greenbrae.

"I had seen a one-way sign and this stuck in my mind," explained Mrs. Nelson to the patrol. She said she realized her error and tried to get back to the proper side, but too late.

Mrs. Nelson's passenger, Alma E. Rydeen of the same address, was treated at the Ross Valley Medical Clinic for minor injuries. Mrs. Nelson was cited for driving to the left of a yellow line.

New Trial For Hopps Is Denied

Former Belvedere resident Stewart B. Hopps, found guilty on two counts of fraud in a federal court in Baltimore last month, was denied a new trial yesterday by Federal Judge Roszel C. Thomsen.

The 58-year-old insurance and investment man was ordered to appear in court March 29 for sentencing. He faces a maximum penalty of 10 years in prison and a fine of $10,000.

The case against him involved United States operation of International Guaranty Co. of Tangiers.

Facing Jail Term, He Takes Pills

Ropp walked into the office to see Probation Officer James Cooper. When informed that he would have to face sentencing this afternoon, he popped 10 pills into his mouth, walked into the hallway and crumpled to the floor.

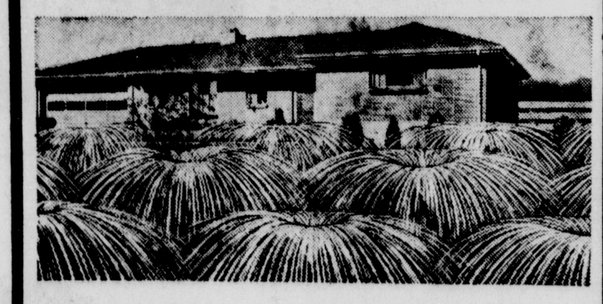

The type of pills was not immediately determined.

Land North Of Fairfax Due Planning

A proposal to update the zoning of 1,800 acres southwest of Fairfax will be discussed Monday by the Marin County Planning Commission.

The area includes the Meadow Country Club and the Boy Scout Camp Tamarino. It is bounded by the city of Fairfax, Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and White's Hill. The heavily wooded area is presently zoned agricultural - residential under the county's old interim zoning act of 1934.

Principal planner Sidney Shaw said the present zoning allows a variety of uses and is "poorly written." Under new proposed zoning of single family residential, and possible additional agricultural zoning, the land will be subject to more compatible future use.

Shaw emphasized the zoning change would not alter any existing use or allow any reckless subdividing. He said interim zoning is still in use throughout much of the county, but it "really follows no zoning at all."

Most residences in the area are along Bolinas Road, and 90 per cent of the land is in "large holdings," Shaw said.

Although the zoning will be discussed Monday, a formal public hearing on it will be postponed because of an error in maps mailed to property owners, Shaw said.

The discussion will be the ninth item on the commission's agenda. The meeting will open at 9 a.m. Other agenda items will include an application by Frederick G. Zelinsky for a use permit to build a 19,000-square-foot supermarket opposite the Boardwalk Shopping Center in Tiburon. The proposed supermarket will be the first building in a shopping center to be called "The Belvedere."

The commission will also consider an application for architectural supervision for a 30-bed convalescent hospital at 24 North San Pablo Avenue in Santa Venetia. Doreen Nelson was previously granted a use permit for the hospital.

Injured Dog Crawls Home

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Wotan, a painfully injured German shepherd police dog, crawled bleeding up the long flight of steps to his home at dawn yesterday.

The member of the police department's new dog patrol unit had crawled and limped more than five miles.

Wotan, named for the mythological god of war, and his master, Patrolman Walter Braunschweig, were injured last night when their police wagon and a heavy truck-trailer rig collided.

The dog disappeared; then reached home.

Lenny Bruce Given Year

CHICAGO (UPI) — "Sick" comedian Lenny Bruce was sentenced to a year and a day in the house of correction yesterday on charges of presenting an obscene show.

Bruce, who did not appear in court before Judge Daniel Ryan, was also fined $1,000.

Ryan turned down a motion for a new trial.

The comedian had been arrested in a raid on a Chicago night club where he was appearing and had been found guilty of the obscenity charges. Bruce later forfeited bail. He is now believed to be in California.

The University of Houston won five straight NCAA golf titles until 1961 when Purdue snapped its string.

Court Upholds Death Sentence

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The California Supreme Court yesterday upheld the death sentence for Claude G. Ashley, 37, former chief warrant officer at the Oakland Army Base.

Ashley was sentenced to death after he was convicted of murdering the six-year-old daughter of a migrant farm worker in Merced County Aug. 8, 1960.

Ashley was first found insane and committed to Atascadero State Hospital. He was subsequently pronounced sane, tried and convicted.

Two Drunken Drivers Fined

Two drunken drivers were fined $193 each Wednesday by Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Municipal Court.

Richard LeRoy Lane, 35, of 1031 San Anselmo Avenue, San Anselmo, was sentenced for driving while intoxicated along Sir Francis Drake Boulevard last Sunday. For the next six months, he may drive only for work.

Matt Marshall Lewis, 52, of 1340 San Anselmo Avenue, San Anselmo, was arrested on March 1 on Center Boulevard in Fairfax. For the next three months, he may drive only for work.

Senate Group Approves Draft

WASHINGTON (AP)—A four-year extension of the peacetime military draft law won unanimous approval yesterday from the Senate Armed Services Committee.

Chairman Richard B. Russell, (D-Ga.) said he hopes to get Senate action Monday on the compulsory conscription.

Expected Senate approval would send the bill on to President John F. Kennedy who asked continuation until July 1, 1967 of present authority to induct men from 18 through 26 years of age for at least two years active service.

The House passed the extension Monday 387-3.

Tittle Pass Record

NEW YORK (UPI)—The record 33 touchdown passes thrown by Y. A. Tittle of the New York Giants during 1962 gave him a total of 166 and placed him fifth on the National Football League's all-time list. Bobby Layne has thrown 196 TD passes, Sammy Baugh 187, and Norm Van Brocklin and Charlie Conerly 173 each.

A Little Tired, But She'll Be 100

GOING STRONG AT CENTURY MARK — Mrs. Fred Whipple, who will observe her 100th birthday next Friday, was guest at a pre-birthday gathering yesterday at the home of her daughter Mrs. Homer Hildebrand of 1968 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael. "I just keep on going," said Mrs. Whipple cheerfully. (Independent-Journal photo)

By RANDALL GOULD

One gets to be 100 years old by doing, in the words of the song, what comes naturally.

"I just keep on going," explains Mrs. Fred Whipple who has every intention of keeping on going to, and beyond, a week from today which will see her passing the century mark.

Meanwhile San Rafael friends gathered yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Whipple's daughter Mrs. Homer Hildebrand, at 1968 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, for a sort of preview birthday party.

The main party will be next Friday at the home of a grandson, B. W. Creighton, at Campbell near San Jose. That will be a big affair with a turkey dinner, but meanwhile Mrs. Whipple was much pleased over a simpler punch-and-cookies gathering with intimate friends.

"I have done a lot of hard work in my life," she says. "But I've enjoyed it though now I feel a little tired."

Mrs. Whipple was born at Pleasant Hill, Ore., March 22, 1863. Things were primitive in in the Fall River Valley of that period and Indians on the rampage were a frequent menace to the few white settlers.

When Mrs. Whipple was only six or seven years old, she recalls, her family and other valley residents were forced to take refuge from an Indian uprising and remain at Fort Crook for some time.

While she was still a small child her family moved to Shasta County, California, where she grew up and married. Her husband had a cattle ranch and there they lived through the decades, working hard and raising a family.

Finally the march of the years caused them to give up such activity and move to San Jose in 1928.

There they lived until her husband's death in 1949, when Mrs. Whipple began alternating in residence between the home of another daughter in San Jose, Mrs. Minnie Creighton, and Mrs. Hildebrand's home in San Rafael.

There are five children altogether including three sons—Fred L. Whipple of Orland, Glenn County, and Meryl and Clarence Whipple of Glenburn, Shasta County.

But that's only the start of the family list. Mrs. Whipple also has five grandchildren, 15 great grandchildren, and six great great grandchildren.

Mrs. Whipple suffers from some of the usual afflications of great age. Her hearing is much impaired, though assisted by a hearing aid which doesn't help with the telephone. Her eyes begin to be "a little dim."

But her general health is good, she has a normal appetite and eats as others do, and she is able to care for herself. Those about her are happy to report that there's nothing wrong with her mind.

Arising with others of the family just before 7 a.m., she is up until about 8 o'clock each evening with an occasional bit of rest.

It is her attitude that she has enjoyed life a great deal, work and all, and is now philosophical about going on day by day.

In the cast are Linda Arbuthnot as Abigail, playing Thursday and Saturday. The same part will be taken by Val Wright on Wednesday and Friday. Mary is played by Jill Cogswell Thursday and Saturday and Debbie Ross, Wednesday and Friday. Elizabeth is double cast with Laurette Mattson and Jan Overturf; Rev. Parris is played by Biff Younger; John Proctor by Bob Young and John Hale by Alan Hayakawa.

Other players include Sheryl Busch, Lesley Barrman, Patty Ekhart, Carol Willat, Judy Combs, Laura Sheehan, Lynn Murray, Gayle Hunter, Margo Margolis, Helen Bandes, Paul Morgan, Francis Hammit, Darryl Barry, Peter Liederman, Mike Thomsett, John Myers, Al Grainick, John Terrell, and Guy Howard.

CHANCE TO SHOW PROGRAMS

Open House Set May 11 At Marin College Campus

"A Day at Marin's College," an outdoor open house to be given by College of Marin students on May 11, was described to about 60 persons at a luncheon at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant in San Rafael yesterday.

"We want a chance to show the people of Marin the fine programs, facilities and well-rounded activities we have at College of Marin," said Margaret Deedy of Ross, student body president, presiding at the meeting of students, faculty members, administration officials and trustees.

Physical education director Harry Pieper praised the student program and invited more students to take part in intramural sports.

David Campbell of Inverness will be in charge of exhibits from campus clubs. He said the Radio Club will operate an amateur station, the International Relations Club will present foreign students in their native dress, and the Atheneum Club will present a history of the college. The Fencing Club will have a fencing display. The Engineers Club will show a relief map of the campus and the college master plan.

Paul Molinari of San Anselmo, rally chairman, will be in charge of entertainment. Miss Deedy will have charge of concessions operated by four service clubs and the home economics department at a lunch.

This schedule was outlined by the students:

Noon to 12:30 p.m., lunch on the lawn in front of the Austin science building; 12:30 to 1:30 p.m. entertainment in the same area; 1:45 to 2:45 and 3 to 4 p.m., presentation of programs offered by the engineering and science, liberal arts, physical education, art, business, teaching, and vocational divisions in various buildings.

From 4:30 to 6:30 p.m. there will be a "street dance and entertainment in the student cafeteria parking lot. At 8:30 p.m. the music department will present a concert in Olney Hall.

Festival Theater Presents Tragic Drama With 'Toys In The Attic'

Festival Theater will resume presentation of a tragic drama with perhaps limited appeal with "Toys in the Attic" tonight and tomorrow in the theater of San Francisco Theological Seminary at 2 Kensington Road, San Anselmo.

Curtain time both nights will be 8:30 o'clock.

The Lillian Hellman play about two old maid sisters in New Orleans and the brother that one of them loves too much is extremely well acted by the Festival Theater players, most of whom are experienced "Straw Hatters." But it is a difficult play.

Marjorie Casebier as Carrie Berniers stands out among the cast, with Carol Brumm suiting almost as perfectly the role of the second old maid sister, Anna.

Also outstanding is Lois be Danzie in the role of Lily, the addle-brained girl-wife of ill-starred Julien Berniers—most difficult of all the play's roles.

At least adequate are the remainder of the players, with Elizabeth Fuller as Albertine Prine deserving special mention.

If the theater goer leaves the performance of "Toys in the Attic" somewhat depressed and vaguely dissatisfied, it is a tribute to the players rather than a criticism of them. For it is that kind of play.

Son For Comedian

CHICAGO (UPI)—The wife of comedian Dick Gregory today gave birth to the couple's third child, a seven pound boy who was named Richard Claxton Gregory Jr. Both Mrs. Lillian Gregory and the baby were reported in good condition.

Deadly Game Is Opening Wednesday

Frederich Duerenmatt's "The Deadly Game" will open Wednesday at Sausalito's Gate Theater for a six-week run.

Earle Marsh of Mill Valley directs the play about three retired men of law who practice their profession on people who drop in to see them. If the visitor is willing to play the game, he goes on trial.

Members of the cast are Robert Haswell, prosecuting attorney; George Ede, defense attorney; Henri Lysen, hangman; Jack Aranson, defendant, all of San Francisco; Sally Lacey of Sausalito as the visitor, the only woman in the cast; Charles Purdy, Sausalito, who plays Pierre and Russell Ernst of Oakland, the judge. The play will be produced Friday and Saturdays at 8:30 p.m. and Sundays at 7:30 p.m. It is the West Coast premiere.

Marsh directed Swiss-born Duerematt's "The Visit," which ran last year at Sausalito Little Theater. Aranson, theater actor-manager who played MacBeth in the play which closed last weekend, will be an American traveling salesman as defendant.

Mosquito District May Annex Land

Marin County Mosquito Abatement District is studying possibility of annexing about 2,000 acres of open land west of Sutro Avenue in the Novato area.

The board of trustees last night instructed Manager G. Paul Jones to sound out the property owners on possible annexation. "This area receives benefits from the district's present control efforts and it is felt the new residents moving into the area should help share in the district's operation costs," said Jones.

President James D. Russell appointed a salary committee consisting of Harry M. Williams, Clifton C. Cordes, and Frank Baccaglio to recommend salary adjustments for the new fiscal year.

State Education Board Proposes Academic Teacher Training Guide

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A broad guideline for training California's future teachers more in what they will teach than in how to teach it has been proposed to the State Board of Education.

A five-member board committee revealed its specific suggestions for the first time yesterday, following a five-month study. If the full board approves, the teacher training standards now in effect will be replaced by ones emphasizing academic subject training for teachers from kindergarten through junior college.

Board chairman Thomas W. Braden, committee chairman, noted the group advocates a strict interpretation of "academic." The theme of their definition is that academic matter stresses intellectual developments over manuel or applied skills.

This would mean such courses as philosophy, mathematics, literature and history would be considered academic. Other subjects, such as law, medicine, home economics, physical education and agriculture, would not automatically be classified academic.

However, an institution that felt its courses in such areas qualified as academic could appeal to the board to have them certified as such.

Braden declared the new standards would mean "not less professional training, but more meaningful professional training."

He said, "An excess of professional education courses in recent years has undermined the subject matter competence of too many teachers.

"It is time to reverse this trend and assign first priority to subject matter."

For instance, elementary teachers in the future would have to have five years of college instead of four. The proposals require 45 units of liberal arts courses and specified amounts of work in the major and minor fields.

This would have the effect in most cases of requiring students to take mostly academic courses in the first four years, and teachers training courses in the fifth year. At present, students can take teacher training courses as early as their junior year.

The committee also would stress on-the-job training. Another move would allow a student graduating after four years with an A. B. degree to start teaching immediately, but require him to acquire his fifth year of college within five years.

The proposals would go into effect July 1, although bills are before the legislature to postpone that date. The board opposes such measures.

Exempt from the new rules would be current teachers and those who by July 1 will be working for certificates under the current plan.

Other provisions:

All teachers would have to possess a major and minor in subjects normally taught in public schools. Either the major or minor would have to be academic — and education no longer would qualify as a major or minor.

School administrators would be required to have an academic major.

Elementary teachers would have to take a foreign language in college, since starting in 1965 students in the 6th, 7th and 8th grades will have to be taught a foreign language.

All teachers would have to take at least a year of English, and demonstrate competence in English composition.

A junior College teacher would have to have at least a master's degree in a subject matter area, and an education degree would not be accepted.

The Fisher Bill, passed in 1961, ordered the overhauling of teaching credentials standards. Braden said "We anticipate there will be objections" to the new program, but said quality education demanded it.

Middle East Leader Dies In Air Crash

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Emile Bustani, 56, one of the Middle East's most prominent industrialists and economic experts, was killed today when his private plane crashed in the stormy Mediterranean outside Beirut harbor.

His Scottish pilot, John Ogilvie, and two Lebanese, Dr. Nimr Toukan of the American University of Beirut, and Marwan Khartabil, also died.

Bustani was a member of Lebanon's Parliament, head of the largest industrial enterprise in this part of the world, and a prominent Arab spokesman for cooperation between Arab nations and the West.

WAR ON POISON WEEK TO BEGIN

Counter dose charts to be used in the home in case of accidental poisoning are being given away at Marin pharmacies under auspices of the Marin County Pharmaceutical Assn.

This is being done in observance of national Poison Prevention Week, Sunday through March 23, according to Fred Mayer of the Sausalito Pharmacy, publicity chairman in Marin.

Seven points are stressed by the association, Mayer said. They are:

1. Keep household products out of sight and reach of children. 2. Store household products only in original containers, Cups, glasses, soft drink bottles are for food and beverages, not for bleach, kerosene and turpentine. 3. Store medicines separately from other household products. 4. Make sure all household products and medicines are properly labeled. 5. Always call medicine by its proper name, medicine is not candy. 6. Clean out medicine chest and storage chests regularly. 7. Use caution when you throw away an old container; contents should be flushed down the drain and the container rinsed.

Mayer reported that one half million children a year swallow potentially poisonous substances.

Marinwood Center's Bids Due

Bids will be opened April 18 for construction and landscaping of the Marinwood Community Center.

Marinwood Community Services District and parks and recreation commission directors met last night with landscape architect Osmundsen and approved detailed plans for the center. Bid opening will be at the CSD board's regular meeting April 18 at 8 p.m. in the Mary E. Silveira School.

Plans for the center include a firehouse, recreation hall, park, tennis courts and playground to be located at Miller Creek and Lucas Valley roads.

A $356,000 bond issue for the project was approved by Marinwood voters a year ago. Construction of the center should begin in May, Osmundsen said.

Highway Patrol Office Moving

Marin County headquarters of the California Highway Patrol will move next Thursday from 696 Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael, to 6120 Paradise Drive, Corte Madera, just off the Highway 101 interchange.

Present quarters, occupied for the past decade, have become too small for the increasing force, according to Capt. T. F. Parnow who is in command. Working out of the office now are 40 uniformed men, supported by a staff of five civilians.

Like the present building, the new structure will be occupied on a rental basis but it was especially built for the purpose and there is provision for further expansion. A change in telephone number will be made at the time of the move.

Field Trip Planned

Second graders from Mill Valley's Homestead School will take a field trip March 29 with their teacher, Mrs. Milen Dempster, to see the SS President Roosevelt in San Francisco.

Apartment Plan Passes In Novato

A 100-unit apartment house on a three and one-half acre plot on the northwest corner of Center Road and Diablo Avenue was approved by the Novato Planning Commission at an adjourned meeting.

A few residents along Center Road objected to the zoning, said Robert Lagle, city planner.

The planners also approved three changes to the Loma Verde master plan. They are: 1) to change 22 acres adjoining San Jose Boulevard at Country Club Drive from commercial to single and multiple family; 2) to change 12 acres from multiple residential to single family along the north boundary of the master plan, and 3) to establish an administrative-professional district on five acres at Dusel Court along the frontage road.

The Novato Planning Commission also:

1. Changed from single-family to retail business zoning of the west side of First Street north of Grant Avenue to Olive Avenue.
2. Approved a request from Eugene and Joyce McGillicuddy to rezone from dulex to multiply family one lot at 1020 Third Street.
3. Granted a zone change from duplex to multiple family of lots at 1041 and 1403 Third Street, requested by Inge Bald.
4. Gave architectural approval for an 18-unit apartment to be built on Hill Avenue west of Diablo Avenue.
5. Approved the tentative map of Seabreeze Unit 4, to divide four and one-half acres into 10 lots.
6. Granted architectural approval to Joseph Filippo for a 16-unit apartment house at the Sundown Shopping Center east of Highway 101 and south of Hamilton Air Force Base.

DINING OUT AND INNS

Chef At Colonel's Ranch Wagon Says Whole Menu Is 'Specialty'

European chef Hector Kocyan at the Colonel's Ranch Wagon resents being asked "What's your specialty?"

Everything on his international menu is a specialty, he affirms, in that each dish is prepared to order. If there has to be a special "specialty," he suggests naming something not on the menu and let him prepare it.

But on the lunch, try maybe the escalope of beef Orientale and you'll likely be back for dinner. Any number of good possibilities here—seafoods for Lent, or say the veal cutlet a la Caesar prepared with Italian and volute sauces, prosciutto and cheese Mozzarella.

LE VIVOIR, restaurant Francais in the Casa Madrona Hotel, Sausalito, has completed its kitchen remodeling and is now back on a regular evening dinner schedule. Open every night serving from 6 to 10, except Mondays—a change from the former Tuesday closing night.

This is a family operation of the Deschamps — nicely done and now well established among our Marin dineries.

NEW MAITRE D' at Tiburon Tommie's Pier 41 is Leon Chevalier, long identified as the host at the Domino Club and an old trooper from the Pantages circuit. He's an old San Francisco friend of Tommie Cox and has moved to Tiburon.

NEW PIANO PLAYER at the Blue Rock Inn, Larkspur, from Thursday through Saturday nights is Bob Brittan from San Francisco. He was formerly at the Hyatt House. Good style for the rinky-tink.

CHANGES at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant under new manager Bill Kader will be gradual —but they'll be noticed. Here's an innovation coming up next week for diners who've been talked into skepticism on restaurant coffee. Bill is bringing in individual coffee brewers for demitasse service. The coffee (Colombian and Java) will be freshly ground and prepared at the table by the waiter.

AT 39 MAIN, Tiburon, they've started serving food—lunches and dinners and brunch all day long Saturdays and Sundays from 8 a.m. Joe Moyle from Europe is preparing.

There's a good lunch selection of crab and shrimp louies, clam chowder and sandwiches; New York steaks, shrimp Creole and others in the evening. Piano bar music Friday and Saturday nights and Sundays from 3 to 7 p.m.

LAUGH RIOT "This Must Be the Place" played to a capacity house at Sabella's last Saturday night, apparently bearing out Lou Sabella's assertion that there's a place for the theater in Marin restaurants.

Requests for reservations were far more numerous than seats, but Lou says the performance will continue every Saturday night "at least through April." Musical stage plays are staged by the Marin Variety Theater in an area separate from the dining room. Curtain time 9 p.m. Tickets at $2.25 can be purchased at Sabella's — but reserve them.

A SAINT PATRICK'S DAY party all day and evening is scheduled tomorrow at Henry's Ol' Place in San Anselmo. They'll start serving corned beef and cabbage at 11:30 a.m. (all you can eat for $1.25) and continue to 9:30 p.m. There'll be favors, Ed Moore at the piano and singing by the Barbershop Harmony Group in the evening.

STILL MISSING from the Marin restaurant scene: A good Japanese restaurant. There are several in San Francisco and on the Peninsula. One we tried in Mountain View on a trip last weekend—Sakura Gardens — draws an excellent crowd. Service in chairs or crosslegged on the floor. The latter isn't particularly suited to my extremities, but with a little practice I might make it. At this point I'm just emerging from the novice stage with chopsticks.

Maybe landscapist George Murata who's celebrating the grand opening of his new nursery north of San Rafael this weekend could provide the garden background.

There was a talk sometime ago about one going in in Sabella's old place before George Zaro tied up with Alcan Pacific on his highway development but it never materialized.

DICK ARGENTO at the Ranch House in San Anselmo has this to say on his popular crab cioppino: "Better make advance reservations for it. Crabs are hard to get and sometimes we run short." It's on again tonight.

POLITICAL UNITY. When it comes to promoting a national political convention, party affiliation doesn't prevent Democrats and Republicans from seeing eye to eye. Last Wednesday, the Alta Mira Hotel hosted a gathering of 30 to discuss the political convention subject for the Bay Area. Gov. Edmund G. Brown, Mayor Christopher and Dan London, who brought them over in his boat, may have their differences but not on this matter.

YOUNG ORGANIST TO PLAY SUNDAY

Ted Alan Worth, one of America's finest young virtuoso organists will present a recital Sunday at St. John's Episcopal Church in Ross, according to Robert W. Hunt, organist at St. John's. It will start at 8:30 p.m.

A native of San Francisco, Worth was a chorister at Grace Cathedral and studied organ with Richard Purvis, nationally known recitalist and organist of the Cathedral. At Baltimore's Peabody Conservatory he received a scholarship to continue study with Clarence Snyder, also organist of the du Pont Estate.

At the age of 20, Worth was invited by the music department of New York City's famed Riverside Church to give its Vesper Concert on Easter Day.

Upon returning to California Worth concertized for churches, musical organizations and the American Guild of Organists and served for the summer as acting organist of Grace Cathedral.

In August, 1960, the young artist appeared as soloist with the San Francisco Symphony under Arthur Fiedler, receiving acclaim from an audience of 9,000.

After travel in Europe he returned to New York City to play a concert in Trinity Church, Wall Street, and to appear before a vast audience in the 1962 summer series of organ concerts at Riverside Church, one of the most significant series of organ concerts in the United States.

Worth is now choirmaster of St. Mark's Episcopal Church in Philadelphia.

Sunday he will play works by J. S. Bach, Handel, Durufle, Reger, Tournemire, Purvis, Davies and Dienne.

Couple Finally Goes To Altar

WARWICK, R. I. (UPI) — Back in 1893, Wilbur Curtis and Clara Bush were childhood sweethearts.

Clara's family moved to Michigan and the couple lost track of each other.

Recently Curtis, a widower, and Clara, a widow, were reunited at the age of 87 and 86, respectively. Now, at long last, they are married.

NEAR THE BREAKING POINT

Somali anti-British demonstrators are restrained by a unit of "riot squad" police in the disputed Northern Frontier District of Kenya. The dispute led the Somali National Assembly to break off diplomatic relations with Britain this week. Somalia demands the northern district, largely populated by Somaliis, from Kenya. The demonstration took place Monday. (AP Wirephoto)

'Good Assurances' Are Sought On Depot's Use For Research Only

The Marin County Development Assn. today sought "good assurance" that the facilities of the Tiburon Net Depot would be used only for rocket research.

Daniel C. Davis, president of the association, said Rep. Donald M. Clausen's announcement yesterday that San Francisco Bay would not be used for rocket firing, "is certainly a step in the right direction."

However, Davis said, "Similar assurance is now needed about the nature of the activities Aerojet-General Corp. will be performing within the depot itself."

He said the association had written to Clausen to seek assurance from the Navy that the depot would be used for research only.

"Aerojet representatives repeatedly have told us that they intend to use the depot almost entirely for research . . . The only non-research type of activity at the depot would be the use of a few machine tools for minor on-the-spot modifications," Davis added.

He said, with these assurances established as a fact, "Marin would end up with the same kind of high standard use of the depot contemplated in the original Marin Science Center proposal of the International Science Foundation."

Driver On Drugs Gets $200 Fine

Patrick Desmond Barrett, 42, of 42 Tamal Vista Drive, Corte Madera, was fined $200 and put on six months probation yesterday for driving while under the influence of barbituates.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Municipal Court pronounced sentence. California Highway Patrolmen said Barrett stopped his car in the Waldo tunnel last Dec. 22, then backed the auto into another vehicle.

Vacaville Medical Facility Due Work

VACAVILLE (UPI)—Construction is due to start by summer on a 1.5-million-dollar addition to the California Medical Facility here.

The new facility will be a 120-bed unit for use as an "acute psychiatric treatment center."

Gallinas Sanitary Annex Plan

Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District directors last night set a public hearing April 11 for consideration of annexation of 250 acres of industrial land adjoining Northgate Industrial Park.

The area, owned by the Draper Companies, would be an addition to the firm's proposed site for industrial development near the Fairchild Semiconductor plant. Sanitary facilities in the industrial park would be maintained by the district, if annexed.

District directors also received petitions from Rafael Meadows residents requesting annexation. About 250 homes in the area will be annexed for sewer service if signatures on the petitions represent 75 per cent of assessed valuation in the area.

The district board will meet March 29 to discuss finances and a tentative budget.

Truck Skids Into Station Wagon

A truck skidding on wet paving at the Highway 101-Black Point Cutoff intersection yesterday rammed a station wagon with injury of a passenger in the latter.

Franklin J. Chamberlain, Bayside truck driver, told the California Highway Patrol he hadn't seen the Highway 101 signal light change to red and he braked too late. His truck hit a wagon driven by Edward W. Gray, Sonoma laborer, westbound on the cutoff.

Harry Miyashiro of Novato, a passenger with Gray, was treated by a Novato physician for an ear injury. The patrol cited Chamberlain for failure to stop at a red light.

Inmates Canning At Folsom Prison

FOLSOM (UPI) — Inmates at Folsom prison currently are canning 72,000 pounds of cranberries for the State Department of Education.

About 12,000 No. 10 cans of processed cranberries will be made available to schools and institutions.

Sabella's Musical Props Not Destroyed

Settings and props from the musical, "This Must Be the Place," burned in yesterday's fire in Brown's Hall, were not the ones being used in the current production at Sabella's restaurant on Saturday nights.

The stage equipment that burned had been built, used and then donated to Homestead Players following the show's first run in November, according to John G. Donhoff, a player in the musical. Complete new staging is being used in the current production and the show will go on Saturday at 9 p.m., he said.

Baton Classes Start Tomorrow

A new class in baton twirling will begin at 10 a.m. tomorrow at Scout Hall, Second and A streets, San Rafael, it was announced today by Joseph D. Rodota, city recreation director.

Classes will be limited to 12 students each because the last session was overcrowded, Rodota said. The instructor will group children according to ability.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

We Should Go Slow Giving Golden Gate Span To State

With the retirement of bonded indebtedness only five or six years away, it is appropriate that we give increasing thought to the future of the Golden Gate bridge.

This newspaper has long advocated a toll-free bridge as the ultimate goal.

This goal assumes that the State Division of Highways would take over the responsibility for maintaining the bridge out of gasoline tax funds.

Actually, we have long thought—and said so occasionally in this space—that maintenance of the bridge ought to be paid for right now with gas tax funds. After all, the bridge is an integral part of the state highway system. It is the only segment of Highway 101 stretching from Mexico to the Oregon border that is NOT now maintained with gas tax funds. It is and always has been, in our view, discriminatory for the state to collect a gasoline tax on fuel used to cross the bridge while the bridge district must collect a toll to maintain the bridge, along with retiring the bridge debt.

As we say, the debt will be retired in another five or six years. The State Division of Highways ought to take over maintenance. And we should thereafter enjoy a toll-free bridge.

But we are afraid it isn't going to be quite so simple.

It looks easy enough to dissolve the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District and hand the bridge over to the State when the last bonds are retired.

Unfortunately, that would be no guarantee that it would thereafter be toll free. In fact, quite the opposite might be the case.

We suspect the state would keep tolls on the bridge to raise money for some other purpose.

In our view this would be even more discriminatory. Users and tollpayers on our Golden Gate bridge would then be paying a toll for a purpose which would not benefit them one iota.

Further, the Golden Gate bridge—under the oft-criticized management of its present board of directors — has lower tolls than do comparable state-operated bridges.

While many of us find fault with spending policies of the Golden Gate bridge board, we must not lose sight of the fact that we nevertheless enjoy comparatively low tolls.

Two possible alternatives have been suggested. First, when the debt is retired and maintenance taken over by the State, the bridge district could continue to levy a greatly reduced toll, say five cents to maintain the district and protect against State-imposed higher tolls.

Second, the bridge might be operated toll-free by the district with a tiny property tax rate levied throughout the district to maintain the district.

Regardless of how it is worked out, we think it important to go slow in the matter of dissolving the bridge district and letting our bridge pass out of our control. Least of all do we want to wind up paying tolls to cross a paid-for bridge in order to finance a new one at some distant point, perhaps the opposite end of the Bay.

Mustard And Vetch

Spring's green carpet is sprinkled by a splashy yellow design as the wild mustard blooms.

Mustard is a native of Europe which has really run wild in California. They are not a spectacularly beautiful flower, but most of us are aware that mustard greens are tasty.

Vetch is another transplanted European which has done well in California. It has become a forage and cover crop here. Its purplish flowers are familiar to most lovers of wild flowers.

Both mustard and vetch can be troublesome weeds, but mostly they are welcome squatters.

MARIN LOOKS AT POLITICS

All Unidentified Flying Objects Tracked Even In Time Of Peace

By CHAPIN A. DAY

'CHIP' DAY

DEEP INSIDE Cheyenne Mountain near Colorado Springs, Colo., the officers and men of the North American Air Defense Command will sit before their complicated electronic machines, able to be sealed off from the rest of the world, but keep track of everything going on across the continent outside. Their mission is simple, yet complicated: To protect the North American continent.

The job is being done now in a windowless concrete "blockhouse" at Eng Air Force Base in Colorado Springs. But when the "hardened" combat operations center is operational, perhaps in about two years, they will move into the huge tunnels under 1,200 feet of granite and be prepared to stay there.

INTO THE COMBAT center, information flows from the ballistic missile early warning system bases in Alaska, Greenland and England. And from the DEW early warning system which stretches across Canada. And from the picket ships in the Pacific and the early warning planes, those hump-backed flying electronics laboratories which patrol both our coasts.

The center is in constant communication, through a variety of routes, with every Air Force system in the nation. Only there is the picture complete of everything that is going on at any one time, of the location and course of every unidentified flying object.

ALL THIS GOES on constantly, even while we are at peace. If bombs should fall, this is where the United States' ability to defend itself is centered.

That's why they are putting it underground, why they are building its three-story buildings in caves, on springs so that bomb blasts will not upset the delicate machines. It is from here that whatever survives of our air power after a first attack will be marshalled and directed.

As we walked out of the three miles of tunnel, one member of our party remarked: "Well, that's making a molehill out of a mountain!" But it didn't seem very funny; he got only a few wry smiles. It was much too serious business.

Like a parachute, this combat center which will cost the taxpayers about 75 million dollars before it is completed, may not ever be needed. But if it is needed, it will be needed badly.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Irresponsibility Of Worst Sort

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I am not against the polio vaccine. I took the series myself. Everyone concerned should receive praise including the takers for their voluntary and co-operative action.

What does concern me is usage of this VOLUNTARY effort to engineer public thinking toward COMPULSORY effort in some similar, but not necessarily so salutary or proven a field in the future. We must always be alert to protect the rights and opinions of the individual against those who seek power and conformity via compulsory public control.

Over and over again the papers and the radio have stated in effect, "Under a recent state law, all students in public or private schools must have polio vaccine." This quote is from the I-J of just last Saturday, Mar. 9. This is literary irresponsibility of the worst sort. The law specifically states, that no parent, who objects for any reason, need give permission for their children to have this vaccine. Thus the law is NOT COMPULSORY, and the usage of the word MUST is an outright lie.

May we PLEASE have the TRUTH from your paper in future, no matter how worthy you may consider the cause to be?

Students Should Hear Both Sides

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Your Mar. 7 edition contained a short report of a woman Marin County inheritance tax appraiser and active Democratic party worker who spoke before a high school class in American Government. The speaker made a strong pitch for the Democratic party indicating that "being independent is nothing" and defined the difference between the two major parties as "Republicans want the government that governs the least, while Democrats want the government that governs the best."

I strongly object to having a government employee, supposedly with duties to perform in the public interest devoting the time for which she is paid by the taxpayers, to the advancement of a political party. This however, is typical of the action of the bureaucracy imposed upon us by the Democratic party. Many public officials devote a major part of their tax-paid time to the perpetuation of their bureaucracy with little regard to the job they are being paid to perform.

I don't object, per se, to the presentation of a party viewpoint to a class in American Government as long as the other side or sides are given an opportunity to present their arguments. I think it highly desirable that students of high school age be exposed to questions of this kind so that they can have a basis for arriving at conclusions. While I assume the Republicans have been offered "equal time" in the high school, on the off chance that they have not, and although I have no official capacity with the Republican party, may I suggest the following to the high school students.

Rather than "a government that governs the least" the Republicans want a government that will not stifle individual incentive and initiative with paternalism and confiscatory taxation. Our country was made great by encouraging the individual to put forth that extra effort which would allow him to improve his lot. When there is no longer that incentive for extra effort, progress stops and the country starts on the down grade. The Democrats think this slide can be stopped by imposing more government regulations and restrictions on the individual requiring more bureaucrats and more taxation which will only accelerate the decline.

Actually, the only cure is to free the individual of the burdens and shackles presently imposed so that he will again put forth that extra effort which raises his standard and by so doing raises the standards of the country as a whole.

The imposition of more and more government is interpreted by the Democrats as "government that governs the best" whereas actually it is forming the basis for the decline and fall of our country just as it has for other great countries before.

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

The International Footprint Assn. announced it was considering construction of a $500,000 "Boysville" home for underprivileged youths in Marin County.

Brice Brothers, lessees of the Marin City Market, announced signature of a lease with Samuel R. Neider to construct a $200,000 shopping center in Strawberry.

T-bone steaks from New Zealand went on sale at 39 cents a pound in the Marin City Market.

20 YEARS AGO

Dist. Atty. A. E. Bagshaw announced his intention of acting for removal of trailers illegally parked here and there in the county. He did this after the Marin Housing Authority said it was indefinitely postponing bids on a proposed Alto trailer camp because it could not get priorities on materials.

Readers of Marin County were urged to contribute already-read books for fighting men overseas.

In keeping with wartime atmosphere, the Marin Journal interspersed its military news items with pictures of tiny cannon.

Hamster Death Lamented

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

May I express agreement with Mrs. Lee Adams (I-J, March 6) who considers the death of a hamster resulting from a classroom experiment as "senseless." I see no justification whatever for the torture of a helpless living creature to demonstrate a scientific fact already abundantly established.

This incident points up the serious question whether or not courses involving animal experimentation are suitable in our schoolrooms, where they can serve only to blunt the sensibilities that distinguish civilized man from the barbarian. Should not such studies be restricted to "premed" courses where, if necessary, they at least serve a humanitarian purpose?

BENNETT CERF

The late and famous editor, Ellery Sedgwick, offered this challenging advice to a graduating class at Amherst: "It is my constant endeavor to persuade young men just starting their business careers that, instead of joining some company organized, successful, and regimented, they should sign up with a leaky ship, scrape down her decks, caulk her seams, refit her sails; for it is on the slipperiest decks that adventure beckons, and a speedier chance provided for rising in the world."

Marin's 1,200 County Ordinances Soon To Be Codified (For $7,000)

WRITING AND passing laws is a fairly easy thing these days compared to getting them in order so that people know what is law and what is not.

The process of checking new laws to see whether they duplicate or invalidate old ones, and organizing them into sensible categories is called codification.

Now, after passing some 1,200 laws during the last 80 years, Marin seems to be about to put them into shape. County Counsel E. Warren McGuire and Administrator Alan Bruce have been told by the board of supervisors to go ahead with the codification of Marin's laws.

IT MAY BE a significant moment in the county's history.

At least codification has been of some importance in the past. It's probably the task that Hammurabi is best known for. As king of Babylonia around 2100 B.C., he put straight the collected laws of the world as he knew it.

Of course, he may not have had as many ordinances to deal with as does Marin. Only 247 of his laws were found on three fragments of stone slab in 1901. And Hammurabi was sorting out crimes and punishments not nearly so complicated as Marin's ordinance for the collection of dog license fees or establishment of the Santa Venetia Flood Control District.

NOBODY KNOWS how long it took Hammurabi to put Babylonian law into some kind of intelligible form, but the Seattle publishing company which proposes to do the job for Marin says it will take a year. This will include the framework for future codification as new laws come along, a bonus which, as far as we know, Hammurabi did not give the Babylonians.

He did, however, set a precedent for order as well as law. He may have even given status to lawyers, Without a code to interpret, a lawyer would have little to do.

SINCE WE MAKE our laws in a more democratic fashion, we don't like to let just one man tack his name to a whole set of them. So the chances seem slim that the Marin project will become known as McGuire's Code.

If ever laws needed arranging and indexing, Marin's certainly do. As things are now, the county counsel cannot be readily sure whether some laws exist. Those that are on record are all bound up loosely in three bulky volumes without a complete table of contents. Some are repetitive. Others are useless. Many of them are written out in hand.

Their codification will cost the county about $7,000 and a lot of hard work. But few people, in or out of Marin, will pay much attention.

Devising systems for law was apparently a more glamorous event 4,000 years ago.

Problem Is How To Get Rid Of Castro; Not Get Rid Of Kennedy

WASHINGTON — There is an urgent need to get this Cuba debate in focus before we lose sight of the main goals.

For too long the Republicans have been uselessly criticizing President Kennedy for what he has done well, namely, boldly forcing Mr. Khrushchev to remove the Soviet missiles and bombers.

At the same time the Administration has let slip from its hands the initiative which it won in October and now is trying to shield itself from legitimate criticism by branding all criticism about Cuba as "partisan" and "panic politics."

The central issue today is how to get rid of Castro, not how to get rid of Mr. Kennedy; that will rest with the decision of the voters 18 months hence.

Nothing could be more pointless than to keep complaining that the President did not disclose the presence of offensive Soviet weapons in Cuba as early as Senator Keating did and that the Administration should have acted earlier.

Since the White House could not prudently disclose its intelligence until it was ready to act, it was reasonable for it to hold back until the case for action was adequately confirmed and until its course of action was selected.

As to this phase of the Cuba operation, the Administration acted courageously, wisely and effectively. The offensive weapons were detected in time; we moved ot get them out before they became operational; there is every reason to believe they are out. Mission accomplished. Good.

BUT WHAT NEXT? What are the Administration objectives toward Cuba? Is it preparing itself or the nation to realize them?

The Administration has three avowed goals:

SHORT-RANGE — Get all Soviet troops and arms out of Cuba.

MEDIUM-RANGE—Prevent Cuba from exporting Castroism to neighboring countries.

LONG-RANGE—Bring about a free Cuba.

Mr. Kennedy has specifically enunciated all three of these objectives and, in addition, the Administration has made it clear that there will be a U.S. military response if Soviet troops are used against Cubans and if our surveillance planes are shot at.

These goals are fine; no disagreement over them either among the "partisan" Republicans who have been criticizing the President over Cuba or among the "partisan" Democrats who have been doing the same thing. But surely it is not irresponsible and certainly no violation of bipartisanship in foreign policy to question whether the Administration is showing adequate initiative to reach these goals. As many Democrats as Republicans are raising these questions and they are not going to be silenced by having the epithet of "warhawk" thrown at them because they think the Administration is being too timid in dealing with the presence of Soviet military power in Cuba.

A MAN LIKE Sen. John Sherman Cooper cannot be dismissed as being either warminded or war-mongering, yet he has forthrightly answered the frequent White House question: "What would you do?"—which is supposed to stop all critics in their tracks—by suggesting that unless Soviet force is soon removed from the Western hemisphere, a limited blockade of the kind which forced the missiles out should be reimposed.

The President ill-advisedly tends to dismiss all forms of a re-instituted blockade as an "act of war." When he applied a limited blockade last October, he called it a quarantine and there was no talk about its being an act of war then. Does a quarantine become an "act of war" when it is advocated by someone who wants to move somewhat faster or somewhat farther than Mr. Kennedy?

The President has stated that the indefinite maintenance of Soviet forces in Cuba is unacceptable to the United States. To most Americans that can only mean that we will not allow Soviet forces to remain in Cuba indefinitely without doing something about it. It seems to me Mr. Kennedy is not alerting the nation adequately to the scope of the action he may have to take before long.

Teacher Is Lost: 'Poor Building'

College of Marin lost a good teacher because of "paint peeling and a broken window" in the science building, a study session of college trustees and members of the firm of Falk and Booth heard last night.

Carlton E. Cherry, chairman of the engineering-mathematics-science division, said an instructor who was considering joining the faculty took a post with Diablo Valley Junior College after seeing the building and shuddering at the sight.

Cherry added he felt it would be six years before the college gets a new science building "and I'm afraid this one will fall apart if we don't do something in the meantime." He said a broken window had been patched with plywood for some time.

Trustee President Elizabeth M. Deedy asked Business Mgr. Norman Bird to hasten repairs on the building, adding, "I hope we won't be having such slow maintenance on the campus as we have had under earlier boards."

The trustees, several faculty members and members of the architectural-engineering firm first discussed the proposed speech-drama building. They agreed to cut the performance hall to 600 seats from 720, and include a platform loft for changing sets in dramatic productions.

Left undecided was whether to include a craft workshop, urged by Irene Clark, speech-drama teacher. This was cut out when about 9,000 square feet of space was eliminated from building plans last year.

It was decided trustees and members of the firm should visit television production studios at City College of San Francisco and get estimates of the cost to build similar studios at Marin.

Music department head John H. Myers said he stood on his original plans. Edwin A. Cadogan, chairman of the fine arts division, and Ernest L. Caillat, photography instructor, asked that photographic facilities be moved to the present woodshop location in the industrial arts building.

Wesley Falk, partner of the architectural firm, was asked to study building a second floor over the deck outside the present art building. He and two other members of his firm, Wesley Hull and Theodore Stolte, discussed plans for a faculty dining room-lounge in the new student center. Trustee Robert E. Oliver asked for cost estimates. Trustee Kent O. Seymour asked that movable, sound-deadening walls be considered if the lounge is located within the main dining room.

Mrs. Deedy and others suggested the firm study restaurant operations in San Francisco for estimates on installing a small kitchen using quick-frozen foods prepared into meals "in a matter of seconds," as trustee Robert E. Rogers put it, by electronic cooking.

College President Stephen E. Epler reported trustees still lack answers on two possible second campus sites after approving an aerial survey of the Pacheco Ranch south of Hamilton Air Force Base and asking additional information from University of San Francisco on land it owns north of Novato and east of Highway 101.

Robert Essig, president of the Faculty Assn., presented a suggestion by science instructor Alfonso Molina that facilities at Bolinas be used for a marine biology station as well as for classes. He referred to two buildings given the college by the Coast Guard and now used for adult education classes. This was taken under advisement.

Retired Postal Clerk Found Dead In Back Seat Of Car

Charles Robert Proctor, 81, a retired postal clerk, was found dead yesterday in the back seat of his car in his garage at 154 Elm Street, Mill Valley, with a bullet wound in his neck and hoses connected from the exhaust into the car.

Asst. Coroner William Bradley said Proctor evidently took his life due to despondence over the death of his wife, Elsie, Feb. 22, and his ill health. These reasons were outlined in a note left in the home.

A .22-caliber pistol, purchased March 6, was in the seat beside him. The bullet entered the left side of his neck and went downward, piercing both lungs. Death was apparently caused by internal bleeding and not by carbon monoxide poisoning, Bradley said. However, full tests following an autopsy yesterday have not been completed.

Proctor apparently died Wednesday night. His body was found at 1:45 p.m. yesterday by his son-in-law, Frank Smith of 5 Lock Lane, Mill Valley, who went to the home after Proctor failed to answer a regular morning telephone call from his daughter yesterday.

Proctor, a veteran of 43 years in the Minneapolis, Minn., postoffice, moved to Marin County 12 years ago.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Russell and Gooch Mortuary, Mill Valley.

Retirement Plan For Ross Passes

The Ross Town Council last night passed a state retirement plan for eight city employees which will raise the town tax rate of $1.15 per $100 assessed valuation about five cents.

There was no opposition to the plan, which had the support of city employees and the Ross Property Owners Assn.

The council expressed opposition to opening Phoenix Lake for trout fishing on a fee basis, reportedly under consideration by the state fish and game commission.

The Ross Town Council also:

1. Put off to April 11 a request by Wallace Cooper of Sun and Snow Homes of San Mateo to construct a home between Bridge Road and Chestnut Avenue on a lot with average slope of more than 30 per cent, because of insufficient information.

2. Approved division into two lots of property of Jack E. Zander at Daniels and Zander drives.

3. Accepted the low bid of $1,700.50 of Carcano and Velcich of San Rafael for repair of a washout on Winding Way.

4. Approved construction of two faculty residences on property of Katharine Branson School on Hillgirt Avenue.

5. Approved construction, to cost not more than $100, of a fence behind the post office. Cost of construction will be split evenly with the Postoffice Department.

6. Authorized payment of $550, the same as made last year, to the summer recreation program.

7. Referred to the street department requests of three residents for trimming trees on Fernhill Avenue.

Girl Hurt Getting On Motor Scooter

Nancy Bricca, 14, of Belvedere, who suffered a knee injury on the Reed School grounds Wednesday, twisted the knee getting on a scooter driven by Chris Coombs, 16 of Tiburon.

Chris's father, Carl Coombs, said the girl did not fall off when his son accelerated the scooter as reported in the Independent-Journal yesterday.

Gallinas Sanitation Annexation Assured

Annexation of Gallinas Village Community District sanitation facilities to the Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District was assured last night with completion of the necessary annexation petitions.

Secretary-Manager Alys Durenberger of the Gallinas Village District said petitions were received with signatures representing more than 75 per cent of assessed valuation, thereby allowing annexation without an election.

The petitions will be turned over to the sanitary district for checking, and annexation will probably be completed in a few months, Mrs. Durenberger said. Prior to annexation, the district must spend about $200,000 to bring sewer lines up to standard.

"Next month we can turn our attention to recreation," Mrs. Durenberger said. The district plans to devote all funds in the future toward development of recreation facilities. Committees will be formed to discuss developments desired by district residents.

Petitions for the long-sought annexation have been circulated since last November.

Car Wash Tomorrow

The junior class of Redwood High School is sponsoring a car wash from 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. tomorrow in the rear parking lot on the Larkspur campus. Proceeds will go toward the Junior Prom, April 21.

West led the deuce of spades, and Chuck Maltz, well-known Los Angeles expert, played the nine of spades from dummy. It was a trifle, but it was enough.

TRUMP TRICK

East wanted to get three tricks in the black suits and then sit back to get his trump trick.

If South had two small spades (possible if West had led from Q-x-x), East had to finesse with the ten of spades at the first trick.

If South had only one spade, East could defeat the contract by taking the ace of spades and two clubs.

MUST GUESS

It boiled down to a guess. Did South start with one or two small spades or did he have the singleton queen?

East might have guessed right if Maltz had played the low spade from dummy, but the nine of spades was the artistic touch. Apparently South had no spade of any value.

So East finessed with the 10 of spades, and Maltz made the contract.

QUEEN WINS

He won with the queen of spades, led a diamond to dummy, won a trump finesse, and cashed the ace of trumps.

East could ruff the next diamond, but school was out. Declarer had time to cash the ace of diamonds, ruff a diamond with dummy's last trump, and then make game with the rest of his red cards.

Incidentally, West must share the blame for his partner's bad guess.

West should have led the eight of spades on the theory that East would be more interested in knowing West's top card than the exact number of spades that West held.

It's usually proper to lead low from four cards of partner's suit, but every rule has its exceptions.

Irish Too Hot For Tam Cagers 61-36

By RALPH CHATOIAN

The Tamalpais Indians, tasting bitter defeat for the sixth straight time yesterday, will try to sweeten things up today when they face Montgomery High School in a consolation game of the Tournament of Champions basketball classic in Berkeley.

Yesterday's 61-36 drubbing by Sacred Heart, champ of the San Francisco Academic Athletic Assn., marks the seventh straight loss by a Marin Athletic League entry in the classic since the league was formed in 1959. Each year, the MCAL entry has lost its first two games which calls for elimination from the tourney.

Tam will be trying to break the jinx when the Indian cagers play the Vikings of Santa Rosa. Game time was to be 4:30 p.m. in University of California's Harmon Gym.

Yesterday's game saw Tam shoot more from the floor (50-42) and out-rebound (36-33) the Irish, but the outcome was a tale of percentages. Tam could hit only 17 of its shots for 34 per cent while Sacred Heart was dumping 23 shots for 54.8 per cent. In the first half, which saw the Irish in front 32-19, they hit 15 of 20 attempts for an amazing 75 per cent.

The free throw difference saw Sacred Heart sink 15 of 19 and Tam could pick up only 2 of 13 tries.

Everything was all right when the game started, as Ellis Williams, Art Foster and Jim Durbin each dropped a shot through the hoop as Tam kept pace with the Irish, 6-6, with about two and one-half minutes gone in the first quarter. But that was to be the last of a chance Tam would ever see.

Before that quarter was over, Sacred Heart sharp-shooters were to sink 9 of their 11 field goal tries, add a pair of free throws, and jump to a 20-11 lead.

Sacred Heart's full-court press, used throughout the game, kept Tam off balance and forced the Indians to shoot from outside the key. Most of the buckets for the Irish came from underneath the basket as the Irish displayed good ball handling and waited for the right moment to shoot.

BRIGHT SPOT

One bright spot in the Tam scoring attack was reserve Robin Prosch who scored eight points on four field goals, three of them in the last four minutes of the game.

Forward Jim Durbin was high for Tam with 10 points. Guard Warren Domino, Tam's normal top scorer, made six points before fouling out with 3:53 left in the game.

In an attempt to pull Tam out of its zone defense in the third quarter, Sacred Heart's Rich Braun tucked the ball under his arm just past mid-court and waited for Tam to come out to get the ball. In fact he waited for 50 seconds while the Indians waited just as long.

Finally he passed the ball around until he got it back and was fouled by Art Foster. The foul cost a point but at least it got the action back in the game, much to the pleasure of the crowd of 3,500.

HIGH SCORER

Sacred Heart's Bob Heaney led the scorers for the game with 22 points.

In other games yesterday, McClymonds whipped Montgomery 71-58, Berkeley dropped Watsonville 62-54, and Hayward tripped up Albany 60-49.

In second round games today after Tam and Montgomery meet, Watsonville and Albany clash at 6 p.m., Sacred Heart will meet McClymonds at 7:30 p.m., and Berkeley will battle Hayward at 9 o'clock. The tourney finals will be held tomorrow.

Scoring:

Tamalpais	11	8	6	11—36
Sacred Heart	20	12	12	17—61

Perry Sparkles For Giants; Garibaldi Gets Test Today

PHOENIX, Ariz., (UPI) — The San Francisco Giants were to get a look at the eccentric Los Angeles Angel lefty Bo Belinsky today as the two teams clashed in Cactus League action here.

Manager Al Dark planned to go with Bob Garibaldi and Don Larsen against the upstart Angels, who actually led the American League for a few incredulous moments last year.

Cleveland disposed of San Francisco with alarming ease yesterday in a 7-3 battle here.

O'DELL ROUTED

The Indians went right to work on Billy O'Dell and carved the stubby southpaw for six hits and five runs in four innings. A fast ball is needed above all in the thin desert air and Billy's hummer was not getting by many Indian batters yesterday.

Then Gaylord Perry took over and the Giants settled down.

Perry, fighting for a job with the varsity, tossed four sparkling innings during which he surrendered but a single tally.

Finally it was Mat Stanek's turn. Nobody got a hit off him, but he managed to surrender a run on two walks and a wild toss.

Stanek has only pitched 67 innings in organized baseball and appears to be one of the Giants' best future hurling hopes.

Most of the slim Giant offense yesterday was provided by Willie McCovey and Chuck Hiller. McCovey ran his RBI total to nine in six games with a two-run double in the first.

Hiller slugged two of the Giants' five hits and scored two runs.

The Giants are now 4-2 in the Cactus League and both defeats have been at the hands of Cleveland.

In pregame drills, Ed Bailey nipped Jack Sanford in a slow-footed 30-yard race and declared the race had solved two problems.

"Bailey isn't going to be a pinch-runner this season and neither is Sanford," he stated.

L.A. Mayor To Bid For The Olympics

NEW YORK (AP) — Los Angeles Mayor Samuel Yorty will present his city's bid for the 1968 Olympic Games to the U. S. Olympic Committee Monday.

THOUGHT IT WAS LOST

Talk about a fish story, these three fishermen, from left, Billy Cowan, 3, Barry Rogers and Don Keiffer, all of Fairfax, have a good one. They were fishing off China Camp in a boat Wednesday when this sturgeon grabbed the bait and started its fight. After a short time the fish broke their 20-pound test line, and the trio thought they had lost a big one. But 40 minutes later, when they pulled up anchor, lo and behold, the broken line was wrapped around the anchor chain and there was the fish. It measured five feet, one and one-half inches and weighed 89 pounds and four ounces. (Independent-Journal photo)

White Sox Scout Not Impressed With Garibaldi's Whizzer Ball

CONNOLLY

PHOENIX—Has Bob Garibaldi, the $150,000 bonus pitcher for the S.F. Giants, got a real good fastball?

You'd almost think that a stupid question, until you start kicking it around among the scouts, coaches and umpires.

In a Scottsdale interview with Hollis Thurston, White Sox scout, this old-timer was shocked to hear him say that he had sent up eight or ten kids to minor league clubs, of late, that would make Garibaldi's fast ball look like a change of pace.

"You must be kidding," I told Thurston, who in his heyday had as good a fast ball as guys like Ted Lyons, Allie Reynolds and others in that bracket.

Thurston maintains that only a fast ball pitcher with a whizzer ball is going anywhere from now on in baseball.

"The new strike zone will help pitchers who possess a tremendous fast ball and hurt fast ball pitchers with just ordinary speed.

AFTER WATCHING Garibaldi in his first start and being impressed with his poise and alertness, I carried my query to Umpire Vinnie Smith, who umpired the day Garibaldi pitched.

"I'd have to say the kid has a live fast ball," Ump Vinnie said. "I thought he was real good and mixed up his throws quite well."

In the midst of our discussion, in popped Babe Pinelli, the only ump to ever perform in a no hit, no run game in a World Series.

Pinelli and Garibaldi got acquainted last winter on the banquet schedule.

BABE LIVENED up the session by recalling his first talk with the young righthanded pitcher.

"I asked Garibaldi," said the Babe, "what his best pitch was and he told me the fast ball.

"So I said to him, 'Then keep on throwing your fast ball. As you get more experience, you can mix it up with your curve and change-up. But always stick to your bread and butter pitch and you'll stay out of trouble'."

Pinelli, later on in training, will carefully watch Garibaldi and promises to tell me about his fast ball after he sees him in action.

PITCHING COACH Larry Jansen of the Giants, not one to be too enthusiastic, carefully described Garibaldi as a real good fast ball pitcher who someday will prove it to the world.

"I'd have to say Garibaldi really is a fast ball pitcher and has a good whizzer ball, as you call it," Jansen stated.

The coolness Garibaldi has in pitching could be the reason why his fast ball isn't so alarming. He throws it with such ease and with such poise that it doesn't look fast, but just sneaks up on the batter.

S.F. Decides To Bid For The 1968 Games

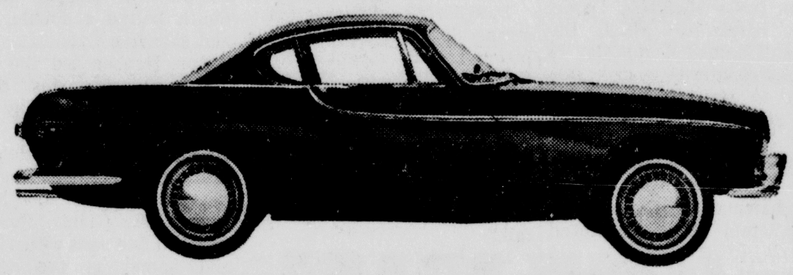

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — San Francisco will seek to have the Olympic Games of 1968 or thereafter held here.

By a 9-0 vote, the board of supervisors yesterday committed the city to seek the bid. A delegation headed by Mayor George Christopher and Supervisor Harold Dobbs will make their pitch before the U.S. Olympic Committee in New York Monday morning.

Other cities that will make bids will include Portland, Philadelphia, Los Angeles and Detroit.

The winning city will become the lone United States representative in competition before the international site-selection committee meeting in Nairobi, Africa, in October.

Koufax Impressive Again As Dodgers Rout Yankees

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

A winter's rest apparently has worked the Midas touch on the index finger that tarnished Sandy Kougax' golden arm.

The 27-year-old fireballing lefthander with the amazing strikeout record had everyone wondering what all the concern was about as he pitched in five innings and allowed only three hits and an unearned run in the Los Angeles Dodgers' 5-2 victory over the New York Yankees yesterday.

Koufax' performance in the exhibition game at the Yankees' Fort Lauderdale, Fla., home base, marked the first time any Dodger pitcher had attempted to go five innings. It was Koufax' second spring workout. He allowed a run and two hits in a previous three-inning stint.

The circulatory ailment that numbed Koufax' finger last year generally is considered the major reason the Dodgers lost the pennant. Before he was sidelined on July 17, Koufax had won 14 games pitched a no-hitter against the New York Mets and struck out 18 batters against the Chicago Cubs.

The Baltimore Orioles remained the lone unbeaten team with a 15-hit attack that subdued Minnesota 11-7 at Miami. It was the Orioles' fifth victory.

The Chicago White Sox and Kansas City A's won their fifth in six games. The Sox blasted Pittsburgh 16-5 at Fort Myers with a three-homer attack and the A's belted Philadelphia 5-1 at Clearwater behind Ted Bowsfield's pitching and hitting.

Cleveland whipped San Francisco 7-3 at Phoenix, Ariz., Washington beat the New York Mets 4-2 at St. Petersburg, Cincinnati edged St. Louis 3-2 at Tampa, the Los Angeles Angels defeated the Chicago Cubs 5-2 at Mesa, Ariz., Milwaukee nipped Detroit 4-3 at West Palm Beach and Houston outlasted Boston 12-11 in 11 innings at Apache Junction, Ariz.

FORD SHELLED

The Dodgers gave Koufax solid backing, shelling Yankees' ace Whitey Ford for three runs in the first inning. Tommy Davis later hit two homers while Maury Wills wound up with three singles. The Orioles withstood the Twins as John Boog Powell collected three run-scoring singles and Al Smith belted a double, single and sacrifice fly.

Ron Hansen led the White Sox outburst against the Pirates with a sixth inning bases-loaded homer.

Homers by Woody Held, Tito Francona and Willie Tasby got the job done for the Indians against the Giants. Don Lock drove in two runs with a double and homer as the Senators took the Mets. Gordie Coleman's two-out ninth inning homer proved decisive for the Reds against the Cards.

Rookie Ed Kirkpatrick led the Angels with a two-run homer against the Cubs. Jim McKnight's single in the ninth sent across the Braves clincher against the Tigers and the Colts beat the Red Sox in the 11th on a run-scoring single by rookie Dave Adlesh.

Will Daugherty Be Next Irish Coach?

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Will Michigan State's Duffy Daugherty, with a built-in Fighting Irish name and mug, be Notre Dame's next football coach?

Top brass at Notre Dame, where handy-man Hugh Devore was named Wednesday to a one-year interim term as successor to resigned Joe Kuharich, shrugged off the possibility today.

Rev. Edmund P. Joyce, Notre Dame executive vice president and chairman of the athletic board, told The Associated Press:

"Several of the press seem to be recommending Mr. Daugherty, but we won't even think about a new Notre Dame head coach to succeed Devore for several months. Certainly, one won't be named until after the 1963 football season."

Daugherty's only reaction to strong Spartan campus suspicion he will accept a Notre Dame offer was: "You can speculate all you want, I have no comment.

"Notre Dame is a fine school, but the day Kuharich quit, I had a staff meeting trying to jack up our offense for next fall."

Daugherty's availability reportedly is stronger than meets the eye. His relationship with Michigan State Athletic Director Biggie Munn, whom he succeeded as head coach eight years ago, is strained, to say the least.

After a 1954 loss to Terry Brennan's Irish 20-19, Daugherty's speedy Spartans whipped Notre Dame seven straight times, making quite an impression on the Irish alumni legions.

Daugherty, although having full professional status, is tied to Michigan State only on a year-to-year contractual basis.

Mill Valley finished the season with a 25-4 record and an 8-1 record in the San Rafael league.

NCAA TOURNAMENT UNDERWAY TONIGHT

PROVO, Utah (AP)—Arizona State University's fourth-ranked basketball teams begins an assault tonight it hopes will carry it to the NCAA finals in Louisville, Ky.

But the Sun Devils, who have looked far from impressive in recent outings, first must get through the Far West regional semi-finals here — and that could be quite a task.

They meet the Bruins of UCLA, winner of the Big Six Conference title and defending tournament champion, in a first-round game.

The opener pits independent Oregon State against the University of San Francisco, champion of the West Coast Athletic Conference. (The game will be broadcast by KCBS at 6:30).

Arizona State, winner of the Western Athletic Conference crown, carries a sparkling, but perhaps deceptive, record of 25 victories and two losses into the tournament.

Eleven of the Sun Devils' victories have been by only six points or less and they've had to come from behind so many times they're known as "the cardiac kids."

Arizona State just barely got into the tournament, gaining a berth by beating Utah State 79-75 in overtime in a playoff at Eugene, Ore., Monday.

UCLA, 20-7, also had its troubles qualifying. It got in by whipping the Stanford Indians 51-45 in a conference title playoff Tuesday.

Here's the complete NCAA schedule across the country:

Eastern Regionals, College Park, Md.: Duke, 24-2, vs. NYU, 18-3; West Virginia, 22-7, St. Joseph's, Pa., 22-4.

Mideast Regionals, East Lansing, Mich.: Illinois, 19-5, vs. Bowling Green, 19-6; Chicago Loyola, 25-2, vs. Mississippi State, 21-5.

Midwest Regionals, Lawrence, Kan.: Cincinnati, 23-1, vs. Texas, 19-6; Colorado, 18-6, vs. Oklahoma City, 19-8.

Far West Regionals, Provo, Utah: Oregon State, 20-7, vs. San Francisco, 17-8; Arizona State, 25-2, vs. UCLA, 20-7.

Tonight's regional winners play in the quarter-finals Saturday night with the four survivors earning trips to Louisville for the semi-finals and final next week, March 22-23.

Wilt Nears NBA Record For Accuracy

The San Francisco Warriors won't even land in the National Basketball Assn. playoffs, but they dominate the league's individual statistics.

St. Louis downed San Francisco 114-109 last night in the only scheduled NBA action but a couple of Warriors had big nights.

Wilt Chamberlain, who already has iced his fourth straight scoring title, made a bid to capture the shooting accuracy title, too. Chamberlain is battling Walt Bellamy of Chicago and whichever one wins is certain to blast Bellamy's league record of .513 s... last year.

Chamberlain hit 17 of 2... shots last night and should edge Bellamy if he can keep up that type of scoring pace. Wilt had 39 points altogether.

Guy Rodgers, league leader in assists, tied an NBA record last night by contributing 28 assists. The record was set by Bob Cousy of the Boston Celtics.

Only 2,261 turned out to watch the last home contest for the Warriors in their first season on the Pacific Coast.

The Warriors already were destined to finish fourth and out of the money in the Western Division while the Hawks had cinched second place but no better.

Flock Of Offers For Clay; Jones Return Bout Likely

NEW YORK (AP)—Next step for Cassius Clay is an earn-while-he learns program. You can be sure he's going to earn plenty.

In the next 10 days, the unbeaten and still loquacious Louisville Lip, his brain trust headed by Bill Faversham, and trainer Angelo Dundee, will wade through a flock of offers that poured in following Cassius' thin, controversial decision over Doug Jones Wednesday night.

The lucrative bids include a return fight with Jones for Madison Square Garden in late May, a match with Ingemar Johansson, Sweden's former world heavyweight king for New York, and a fight tour of England and Europe, offered by British promoter Jack Solomons.

Faversham, Clay's manager and a Louisville distillery executive, said Thursday he wanted 10 days to think over the propositions. The chances are that the Jones return will be accepted.

First Clay is going to undergo a rigorous program to improve both his attack and defense. Even in victory, the "Greatest" showed vast room for improvement. He holds his hands too low, does... lick inside, doesn't... the body enough, and... er for a right hand... goes backwards.

Wilt Nears NBA Record For Accuracy

The San Francisco Warriors won't even land in the National Basketball Assn. playoffs, but they dominate the league's individual statistics.

St. Louis downed San Francisco 114-109 last night in the only scheduled NBA action but a coupie of Warriors had big nights.

Wilt Chamberlain, who already has iced his fourth straight scoring title, made a bid to capture the shooting accuracy title, too. Chamberlain is battling Walt Bellamy of Chicago and whichever one wins is certain to blast Bellamy's league record of .513 set last year.

Chamberlain hit 17 of 21 shots last night and should edge Bellamy if he can keep up that type of scoring pace. Wilt had 39 points altogether.

Guy Rodgers, league leader in assists, tied an NBA record last night by contributing 28 assists. The record was set by Bob Cousy of the Boston Celtics.

Only 2,261 turned out to watch the last home contest for the Warriors in their first season on the Pacific Coast.

The Warriors already were destined to finish fourth and out of the money in the Western Division while the Hawks had cinched second place but no better.

Flock Of Offers For Clay; Jones Return Bout Likely

NEW YORK (AP)—Next step for Cassius Clay is an earnwhile-he learns program. You can be sure he's going to earn plenty.

In the next 10 days, the unbeaten and still loquacious Louisville Lip, his brain trust headed by Bill Faversham, and trainer Angelo Dundee, will wade through a flock of offers that poured in following Cassius' thin, controversial decision over Doug Jones Wednesday night.

The lucrative bids include a return fight with Jones for Madison Square Garden in late May, a match with Ingemar Johansson, Sweden's former world heavyweight king for New York, and a fight tour of England and Europe, offered by British promoter Jack Solomons.

Faversham, Clay's manager and a Louisville distillery executive, said Thursday he wanted 10 days to think over the propositions. The chances are that the Jones return will be accepted.

First Clay is going to undergo a rigorous program to improve both his attack and defense. Even in victory, the "Greatest" showed vast room for improvement. He holds his hands too low, doesn't fight a lick inside, doesn't punch to the body enough, and is a sucker for a right hand when he goes backwards.

The FISHIN' FOOL

By RALPH STEVENS
IJ Fish and Game Writer

Here's A Tip Or Two For Anglers Who Want To Bring In The Bass

STEVENS

If you have the urge to get yourself a few bass tomorrow or Sunday or Monday, and IF the weather and water conditions are such as make a trip worthwhile, and IF you would rather catch a striper weighing from 10 to 20 or more pounds, and IF you will be using light tackle, AND IF YOU HAVE THE PATIENCE TO WAIT FOR THE FISH, and, most important of all, IF you can get a few medium sized or small bullheads—then pack a lunch and drive to Joe's Launching at Santa Venetia on the Marin side of the bay, or to China Camp on the same side, or to one of the boat liveries on the Contra Costa side of the Bay and get in a rowboat and go fishing.

I COULD be mistaken, but I have a conviction that a run of large bass, such as we used to have back in the late 1940s is with us right now. Chances that you will all get your limits are slim, of course, but I really believe if you play the game according to the rules you will have better than a 50/50 chance to catch that dream fish.

Don't forget, I have specified using bullheads for bait and that you stay put instead of shifting position every time you see a big fish being brought in by another boat.

OKAY? Then let's talk about how to bait up with that bullhead: Use about a 5/0 or 6/0 hook on a rather long leader; reeve the hook through the skin close to the head, secure with a half-hitch around the tail of the bullhead and cast out. Then, sit back and wait for the fish to grab that bullhead, allowing him to have time to get the bait well into his mouth and throat, then, and then only, pick up your rod and give him the business.

To give you some idea of what has happened lately—Joe Nerviani of Joe's Launching told me that on his weekend catch (before the winds came up on Monday and Tuesday) not a single fish was unloaded from the many boats that went out that weighed less than 12 pounds and they ran to 24 pounds. I can always bank on what Joe reports, and so can you.

ONE LAST tip: If you have been unable to get a supply of bullheads and have to use sardines, cut off the head and tail of the sardine, slit the bait down the back, remove the backbone and turn the sardine INSIDE OUT. Reeve your hook as though sewing, from the head to the tail. Then secure the tail to the leader with thread or yarn to prevent the inside-out fillet from bunching. Make your cast and prepare to await the strike. Like with the bullhead bait, allow time for the bass to swallow the sardine fillet before striking.

Do these things and I'm betting you'll have good luck.

Redwood Grid Clinic To Be Held Tomorrow

The ninth annual Redwood Football Clinic will be held tomorrow from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. at Redwood High School.

The clinic, under the chairmanship of Bob Troppmann, head football coach and director of athletics at Redwood High, will bring together top prep coaches in northern California.

Among the speakers will be Dick Storm, football coach at Carlmont High who will talk on offense; Forrest Klein of Alameda High who will speak on team organization, and Bob Berry, coach at Willow Glen who will talk on defense.

The afternoon session will include a talk by Bill Woods of Santa Cruz High on offense; a talk by John Hanna of Bellarmine on "The Coaching Staff" and films on various skills of the game.

A panel — consisting of coaches Wilbur Wood, Berry, Storm, Hanna and Klein, and prep writers Bob Sprenger and Al Moss from San Francisco—will be held. Troppmann will be the moderator.

Managing directors of the Shrine North-South high school football game have informed Troppmann that all coaches who attend the clinic would be given two free tickets to the all-star event. The game is scheduled for Los Angeles' Memorial Coliseum Aug. 1.

Troppmann, who had been anticipating a turnout of about 250 for the clinic, predicts the "ticket bonus" will balloon that figure by another 100.

Duren Will Be Spot Starter

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP) — Manager Gene Mauch of the Philadelphia Phillies says he plans to use newly acquired right-hander Ryne Duren as a spot starter "and count on him for six, seven innings."

The 34-year-old Duren, one-time strikeout ace of the New York Yankees, was purchased from the Los Angeles Angels for slightly over the $20,000 waiver price.

Davy Moore Wants A Heavier Crown

LOS ANGELES (AP) — World featherweight champion Davey Moore has long had his sights on the lightweight crown. But first, he emphasized, he has more immediate problems at hand, notably sensational young Sugar Ramos of Mexico City.

The 21-year-old Ramos, now a fugitive from his native Cuba, challenges the 29-year-old 126-pound king from Columbus, Ohio, in one of the three title matches set for tomorrow night in Dodger Stadium.

Ramos is noted for his punching ability, with 30 knockouts scored in 43 fights, and, of course, Davey is rated one of the best-ever hitters of the smaller men.

He's a swingin' cat, this Davey. Jive and all that jazz comes naturally.

Relaxing at his training camp, Moore was asked:

"Have you ever met a fighter like Ramos?"

"Put it this way, man, has he ever met anyone like Davey Moore?" retorted good-natured Davey.

"Do you think this will be your toughest fight?"

"Ask me that after the fight and I'll tell you. I can't say. I ain't Cassius Clay."

"Have you seen Ramos fight."

"I only seen him fight Danny Valdez. He's a good puncher. But then again, he might wind up like Danny."

For the record, Moore polished off Valdez, a promising young Los Angeles boxer, in one round.

Davey still rates his match with Charley Riley in St. Louis in 1954 as his toughest.

"Now that was a fight. That took the cake. It was close but I beat him. He had me down once. First time I'd ever been on the floor," he recalled.

What about Carlos Hernandes in 1960 in Caracas, Venezuela, who floored Davey seven times and broke his jaw and won in seven rounds?

"That," said Davey, "was like walkin' off the curb and breaking your ankle. I had a bad wisdom tooth and it was hurtin' all along."

sports . . . . . . sedan

Paint a stripe along its top; a number on its side . . . and you're ready to compete. Pack it full with Mom, kids, pets, lunch and you're on your way to a picnic. That's the joy of owning the new MG Sports Sedan. It's the amazing combination of racing potential and sedan comfort at a price so low ($1898*) that you owe it to yourself to give it a trial run.

Make no mistake about it, this MG is a sports car . . . designed and built in true British sports car tradition . . . packed under its hood, a sports car power plant—the world's number 1 competitive engine . . . . . . an engine that sets crosswise instead of lengthwise. This simple maneuver finds 80% of the car's length devoted to luggage and passengers, 5 passengers. Even long-legged riders will find the back seat as big as a bathtub . . .

. . . while up front, sports car enthusiasts sit snugly in two buckets . . . Dual carburetion . . . 4-speed stick shift . . . Crunchproof synchromesh gear box . . . Speeds in excess of 80 mph, the guts and spirit of a true MG. But Mom likes this MG because it's a tiny marvel in big city traffic. It parks in a pocket, stretches budgets (24 to 30 mpg). It goes shopping, visits Grandma, hurries to the station, hushes to church and sits comfortably at a drive-in movie.

But on the road, when you're all by yourself—it's an MG. Flattens hills, corners like a cat. Sports car disc & drum combination brakes for safer, surer stops. Revolutionary fluid suspension system (no springs, no shock-absorbers) for a creamy smooth ride. Front wheel drive . . . the engine pulls instead of pushes . . . incredible stability (especially on slippery roads).

The MG Sports Sedan—a car that anyone can drive with enjoyment, comfort and confidence. A little giant, bigger on the inside than it appears on the outside.

Put a racing stripe on its top . . . . . . or a picnic basket in its back. You have at your command an obedient servant, a sporting spirit—an elegant rascal.

And even sports car drivers wave . . .

College Students Study And Work

A majority of College of Marin students combine study and a job, says a fall semester report on student placement from the office of dean of students Irwin P. Diamond.

About 54 per cent work one or more hours weekly, 36 per cent work 10 or more hours and 15 per cent are employed for 20 or more hours a week, according to the report.

About one-third of the students found jobs through the campus office of the State Department of Employment at an average hourly pay rate of $1.17 for girls and $1.60 for boys.

The jobs ranged from gardening to technical work for boys and from baby sitting to retail store sales for girls.

The report points up the need for expanded scholarship and loan funds so that students may devote more time to studies free of financial burdens, says Diamond.

General Motors Is Acquitted In Antitrust Case

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A federal judge acquitted General Motors and 350 codefendants yesterday of antitrust charges, ending a trial that began last December.

Judge Thurmond Clarke granted a defense motion for a directed verdict of acquittal after the prosecution had completed its case.

The Justice Department brought the action in an attempt to prevent the auto manufacturer from allegedly trying to control prices at which dealers sell cars.

It accused the firm, dealer associations and others of illegally conspiring to bring pressure on Chevrolet dealers to prevent them from selling new cars to discount dealers.

HEARING IS SET ON BODEGA HEAD

SANTA ROSA (UPI)—Sonoma County supervisors have been ordered into court April 1 to show cause why they should not be commanded to set aside approval given Pacific Gas and Electric Co. three years ago, for the Bodega Head power plant.

Signed by Superior Court Judge Jordon L. Martinelli, the order sets the date for hearing April 1 in Sonoma County Superior Court.

The order is based on a petition filed Wednesday by four county landowners and an association opposing PG&E over the Bodega plant.

The petition attacks the validity of the permit approved by the supervisors in 1960. This is the latest attack on the plans for the 61-million-dollar, 325,000-kilowatt plant.

The action was brought by the Northern California Assn. to Preserve Bodega Head and Harbor and by four Sonoma coast residents, Silas and Mary Darling of Bodega Bay, Charles Goodale, rancher, and Mrs. Doris Sloan, housewife.

The action charges that the nuclear power plant, as planned, will "substantially damage" the petitioners.

Three of every four house hunters want a full basement and nine of 10 desire a separate dining room, report housing specialists of Allied Chemical's Barrett Division.

Bon Voyage Parties Honor Popular San Rafael Resident

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

Bon voyage parties are being given for Mrs. Harry Meilink who leaves Sunday for an extended tour. She has leased her San Rafael home for a year to the Larry Beaumonts, formerly of Belvedere. Mrs. Meilink, who was with the First National Bank of San Rafael, now the Crocker-Anglo Bank, for years, is now retired. So she has no rigorous time schedules to follow on her travels. Mrs. Meilink's brother, Marshall Pease, and his wife, Genevieve, gave a dinner party at their Alameda home for the traveler. Many of the popular Mrs. Meilink's Marin friends have given dinners in her honor.

Metta Meilink will fly to New York then to London where she will board another plane which will take her to Johannesburg in South Africa. She will be two weeks in Africa, travel up the East coast to Cairo, go down the Nile by steamer, see the Aswan Dam and the Valley of the Kings, Luxor and Karnak, return to Cairo, then tour the Holy Land for several weeks.

Metta will fly to Turkey, then Athens, she'll see the Oracle of Delphi and then make a leisurely cruise around the Grecian Isles. She'll tour Europe for three months, meeting long time friends, Mrs. Joseph (Lola) Joseph, former Marinite, who now lives in Garmisch in the Bavarian Alps, Lou Steiner, who worked at the San Rafael bank, and is now in Lucerne, Switzerland, and Dick Roderick and his wife in Saragossa, Spain and then spend a month in the British Isles. She'll board a ship for the cruise to New Zealand, Australia, and back to California.

AMONG THE MEMBERS of the Menlo Mothers Club sponsoring the fashion show to be staged in the new dining hall on the Menlo School campus, at 2:30 p.m., March 21, are Mrs. Raymond Hornsby Jr. of Kentfield, Mrs. Joyce Stackpole of Mill Valley and Mrs. E. O. Holter Jr. of Ross. A pre-show luncheon will take place at the Menlo Circus Club. Theme of the style show is Wings of Fashion. Mrs. Thomas M. Huston of 303 Oakwood Place, Menlo Park heads the publicity committee. Students from Marin attending Menlo are Hugh Garol, John Sauter Jr. and Roger Hornby. Larry Ashby is on the Student Council. Mrs. Elwood Leep of Atherton is luncheon chairman.

The fashion show given each spring is the one big money raising event of the year. It contributes to a scholarship, the library, building fund, and students' special activities.

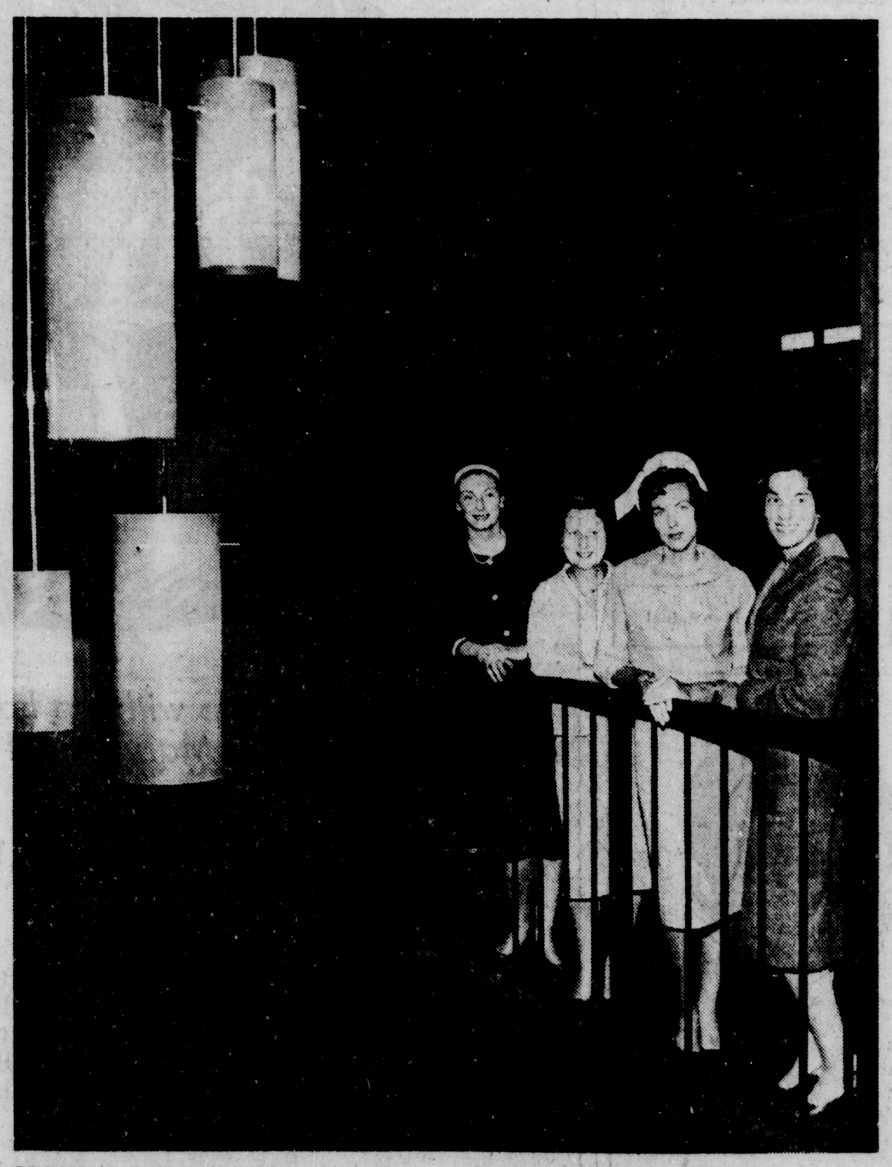

A surprise showing of Caribbean costumes will be modeled by some of the Menlo Mothers.

PENNAFORT HALL will be the setting of a large reception tonight following the final concert in the series of five in Dominican College's Schubert festival which opened last Sunday.

Guests of honor will be patrons and sponsors and others, such as Dr. Giovanni Camajani of San Francisco, who have had a share in making the new venture successful.

In charge of plans for the reception is Gertrude Gruenberg, member of the Dominican College faculty, and manager of the Dominican concert series. She will be assisted by Sister Mary Antoinette, O.P., chairman of the College's music department, and with Sisters Nicholas, Joseph and Adele.

The committee of sponsors and patrons in addition to Mme. Gruenberg, chairman, and Mr. and Mrs. Jeremy Ets-Hokin, co-chairmen, includes Messrs. and Mesdames Henry Adams, Robert Blum, John Bulles, Jerome Flax, Irving Levin, Robert Lurie, J. Philip Murphy, Les Vogel and Frederick Wertheim and Mrs. Rosalind Ray Watkin.

OPENING ITS second year the Florence Crittenton Circle of Marin elected its leaders for 1963-64 at a luncheon yesterday at Peacock Gap Golf and Country Club. From left are Mesdames Gerald J. Elbert Jr. of Mill Valley, chairman; David W. Ross of Belvedere, treasurer; Robert Taylor of Ross, vice chairman, and Bruce Manheim of Tiburon, secretary.

A special guest at the luncheon meeting was Mrs. August B. Rothschild of the San Francisco Florence Crittenton board.

San Jose P-TA To Hear Panel On Guidance

The San Jose Intermediate School Parent-Teacher Assn. will present a program entitled "The 3Ds in Today's Schools" at the March 21 meeting.

Three types of youth in need of special guidance will be discussed by Mrs. Lois Kulmann, district guidance consultant; Don Olsen, Marin County probation officer; Roy McLaren, Novato Chief of Police, and Sgt. Walter Tallman, Hamilton Air Force Base police officer.

The panel will discuss the divergent youth, or one with delinquent tendencies; the disadvantaged youth, or one deprived of normal cultural and social experiences; and the disaffected youth, or one who is a "sitter" in the classroom or a "drop-out."

The program will begin at 8 p.m. in the school library.

A slate of officers will be presented for the 63-64 year, by the nominating committee, preceding the program.

Who Is Middle Aged?

NEW YORK (AP)—The way to turn cartwheels at 60 with the agility of a 10-year-old is not to stop turning them when you're 20, 30, 40, or 50.

That is actress Molly Picon's philosophy about growing older, and it applies not only to physical gymnastics but mental ones as well.

On the street, at her corner grocery, or at the stage door after matinees women old enough to have remembered Molly when she was a star of the Yiddish theater on the lower East Side 43 years ago ask admiringly, "How do you do it, Molly?"

While they refer to her gazelle-like leaps and ferris-wheel spins along the footlights of her Broadway musical, they also survey enviously her ingenue figure and her mobile face, young with animation.

MOLLY PICON

IF SHE HAS more time, and the occasion warrants it, ageless Molly will elaborate on the cartwheel answer. For the wasted capabilities of many women in their middle years is a subject close to her heart.

With grown families and busy husbands they often become literally sick with loneliness and idleness, Molly knows. Some lose themselves to reality with the television sets. And many lose their figures via automobile and automatic household equipment.

"So why do you ask me to buy you a new TV and car?" jokes her husband, business manager, playwright and producer Jacob Kalich.

"Yonkets, you don't have to buy me a new body yet?" retorts petite Molly. Despite her calisthenics onstage, she walks the hour-long route to the theater each day, and on weekends at their country home takes part in some vigorous gardening activity.

"If your muscles stay used to it, they don't know they should not, just because they're older.

IF YOUR MUSCLES get lazy, you should expect them to complain."

The same can be said for mental muscles, insists Molly. Of course, she's been lucky, "never bored a day of my life." And she admits that the average middle-aged woman does not have her good fortune of having a career to fill the gaps of being needed.

"BUT NOBODY should grow stale. If a woman's family is grown, maybe that's the time she should take on other people's. If she is feeling sorry for herself, all she has to do is volunteer for some welfare organizations and she'll find her own troubles are small compared to others.

"No matter how limited a woman's talents are, she can be useful, and she can feel fulfilled."

Molly's and Jacob's fulfillment came with the adoption and education of three European refugee children, with postwar and years of entertaining in Jewish internement and concentration camps.

Much of Molly's wit, wisdom and philosophy about life in general, and maturity specifically, came from her grandmother Sarah Ostrow, a tiny Jewish lady of such indomitable spirit that she did not, until she was 85 and the doctor told her flatly, discover she had grown old.

AFTER YEARS of reciting tales —of her grandmother's troubles with boarders, matchmaking, and family-rearing on stage, Molly recently wrote a book about her, called "So Laugh A Little."

"It cost me $5 to find out I'm old," Molly says her irate grandmother protested when she came home from the doctor that awful day. "And you know what, children? I would not give you two cents for it."

First-Hand Information Given On Something New On Highways

Last summer I printed a letter from a mother recommending a house trailer for family vacation trips. This year I have first-hand information about something new on the highways—truck campers.

Campers are like trailers, except that they fit on the bed of a pickup truck. Some campers have sleeping facilities only, which are fine if your children are old enough to enjoy outdoor cooking and eating. They provide clean, safe, readymade beds when everyone is ready to turn in.

Other campers have all the comforts of home, compactly arranged in about eight feet of space. A double bed fits over the cab of the truck. The dinette seats unfold into another bed. A sink and stove make indoor cooking possible.

One family I know traveled 4,400 miles last summer in a camper. They have three children, aged 10, 9 and 1. They say campers are the only way to travel with an infant. Before leaving home, the father made a gate to close off the cab-over bed. That served as a playpen for the baby, as well as protection during her naps. He also made a hinged shelf over the watertank, and put removable sides around it. With a cubdown foam rubber mattress, this made a fine bed for the little one. Her mother says she was a good traveler. No problem there at all.

Legally, passengers are not allowed to ride in a trailer when it is moving. Too dangerous. But a camper becomes part of the truck. Passengers are safe, even when underway Youngsters can play games on the table, take naps, move about with freedom, while daddy and the truck eat up the miles.

Campers can be rented. But they do require a truck. Many fathers use trucks in their work, however, and for them a camper may be the answer for a low cost, comfortable way of traveling with children.

Problem-Solving Approach Used In Teaching Of Social Studies

By DAVID NYDICK
UPI Education Specialist

One method of teaching children social studies is the problem-solving approach. It is one of the interesting ways for children to learn.

A look at a particular problem studied by a group of students will give you an idea of the broad growth which might occur. The question was raised in a classroom as to why the United States had developed so much faster than the other countries in the Americas. A discussion followed which brought out many possible answers such as our form of government, natural resources, climate, etc.

THE CLASS became highly interested and decided to go more deeply into the reasons for the rapid growth. They talked about ways to approach this study. It was decided to divide the class into small interest groups. Each group studied a different aspect of our nation's progress in relation to other countries.

The committee which studied the effects of government started with an analysis of the constitution. As the members examined this basic law, they were searching constantly for its effects upon our way of life and continuous growth. It often was necessary to uncover why its writers had designed it as they did. As the group compared our government with those of other nations, they began to appreciate the real meaning of our democratic form of government. Their enthusiasm grew as their understanding developed.

THE STUDENTS developed many important academic skills. The research included the use of reference books, analysis and comparison of ideas, note taking, reading, writing (grammar, spelling), and public speaking.

The learning which takes place in the problem-solving approach is endless. It covers almost every area of the school program.

This method of teaching involves the child in a vast number of experiences. He learns through his own initiative and efforts. A student with enthusiasm is on the right track. He will need to master skills in order to satisfy his curiosity. He will begin to think.

THE VALUE of this approach lies in its contribution of meaningful knowledge. The accumulation of factual information is advantageous when it adds to understanding. The particular problem studied donated much to the students' understanding and knowledge of the American heritage. They became aware of their own participation and responsibilities as citizens.

PERHAPS, the problem-solving approach is one which helps meet the needs of our society. We want people to develop initiative, civic responsibility, the ability to think, curiosity, and appreciation of our society. This method seems to achieve these aims while allowing for individual differences in interest and ability.

Sunny Hills Volunteers, Staff Participate In League Conclave

Volunteers and staff members of Sunny Hills took an active part in the planning of and participation in the 11th annual South Pacific Conference of the Child Welfare League of America, in San Francisco last weekend.

The league is the chief educational recourse for local child welfare agencies. Organized in 1920 to provide better understanding of child welfare problems, it also works to formulate and improve standards of work with children.

The program consisted of three consecutive seminars on 21 different subjects, ranging from the "Use of Group Homes," in which Sunny Hills is interested, having already established one in Marin County, to "Healthy Adolescence in Today's World."

Perry Hall, executive director of Sunny Hills, was program chairman for the conference, and Miss Margaret Butcher, assistant director, also participated. Sunny Hills board members attending the sessions were Mesdames William Kent Jr., president of the board of directors, H. Wallace Hickman, Edgar T. Lindner, Donald C. Perry and William E. Waste. Mrs. Robert Kettenbach, also a board member, participated in a panel discussion on "Volunteer Services Beyond the Budget."

More than 60 volunteers from the Junior Auxiliary and various guilds of Sunny Hills, who served as monitors at both the general sessions and the 21 institutes, were recruited by Mrs. Lindner.

Other Marin residents taking part in the conference were Miss Florine Miller of the Marin Public Welfare Department; Mrs. Thomas J. Mellon, a board member of the Bay Area Catholic Social Service, and Dr. Philip Hicks, a psychiatrist, and social agency consultant.

Marin MAGAZINE
Bright reading for the whole week
Featured this Saturday:

Walking is fine, says Rev. Herrick Lane of San Anselmo, one of Marin's most enthusiastic hikers. But if you are going to walk, get away from the highways and into the great outdoors. In an article written for tomorrow's Independent-Journal Marin Magazine by its editor, Don Keown, the 73-year-old retired minister outlines some of his favorite hiking trails through Marin's beautiful lake country.

From time to time, the I-J's Marin Magazine enjoys telling its readers about some of the many exceptional teen-agers in our county. Tomorrow one of Novato High School's busiest and most versatile students, junior Bill Kibler, will be the subject of such an article. He is a youth of many interests, typical of the young leaders that are being produced in our schools today.

High in the ranks of America's great humanitarians must be listed botany genius Luther Burbank. Tomorrow's Marin Magazine will show you some previously unpublished photographs of Burbank, made from some rare old glass negatives that are the property of Mrs. Frank Shelgren of San Rafael. They are only a part of the treasures which she has inherited from her Civil War veteran grandfather.

Marin's own magazine . . . picturing and reporting life in Marin today . . . personalities, recreation, coming events, book reviews, gardening, music, home improvement, weekly TV log. A week of good reading. Look for it, Saturdays.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Thymus Gland Is In News Again —This Time As Aid To Research

VAN DELLEN

The thymus gland is in the news again, this time favorably. Experimental studies by D. Robert A. Good, of the University of Minnesota, indicate a possible link between malfunctioning of this organ and a number of baffling diseases. In addition, two active hormones have been isolated from the gland.

The function of these hormones is not known, but may be related to growth.

A few decades or more ago, the thymus was in the doghouse. It was blamed for pressure on the windpipe in infants, and X-ray treatments were advised to decrease the size of the organ. We now know this therapy had little value.

THE THYMUS, as off 1963, has gained considerably in stature. It is extremely active in early life as the source of lymphoid tissues that are responsible for immunity. These cells are capable of migrating from the gland, to reproduce in other parts of the body.

Disease enters the picture when the thymus becomes lazy. As a result, theb ody's defense against any conditions is lowered and the outcome may be rheumatoid arthritis, leukemia, or unusual blood disorders. Malfunctioning of this gland also may occur when a tumor develops on the thymus.

RESEARCH ON laboratory animals showed that removal of the structure early in life produces an immunologically crippled rabbit or mouse. These animals were unable to produce antibodies, the body's first line of defense against disease. This does not occur when the thymus is removed at maturity, lending weight to the theory that the immunity pattern is established early in life.

If scientists break the immunity barrier, much progress can be made not only against certain diseases but in transplanting organs from one person to another. Up to now, the body rejects transplanted tissues as soon as enough antibodies are formed to combat the grafted organ.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

Beer has a lower alcoholic content than the others. It is the amount consumed that is more important.

Mr. Wishard A. Brown

San Rafael, California

Dear Mr. Brown:

You have undoubtedly already heard from our Sales Promotion Director, Wally Blake, a good deal about the tremendous success which greeted our first offering of one-family homes in the Loma Verde area when we opened the project this last weekend.

In addition to whatever information Wally has given to you, we thought you might also like to hear directly from management as to how we feel about the exceptional cooperation we received from the Independent-Journal and the excellent results which we can trace directly to your newspaper.

The unusually heavy traffic on Friday and the tremendous traffic on Saturday we can credit directly to the I-J. The Friday traffic we would have to credit to the teaser campaign we ran with you for about 10 days prior to our opening, and the Saturday traffic to Friday's full-page ad in your paper. On Friday, by actual count, we had more than 2,000 visitors and on Saturday in excess of 5,000. Our Sunday traffic was also very heavy and a good portion of this was undoubtedly directly attributable to the carry-over pull from the Friday full-page ad.

As our plans develop in Marin County, you can be sure that we intend to continue using the I-J heavily in our promotional programming. We also want to thank your entire staff for their excellent cooperation with our Publicity Department.

Sincerely,

SEABREEZE CONSTRUCTION CO., INC.

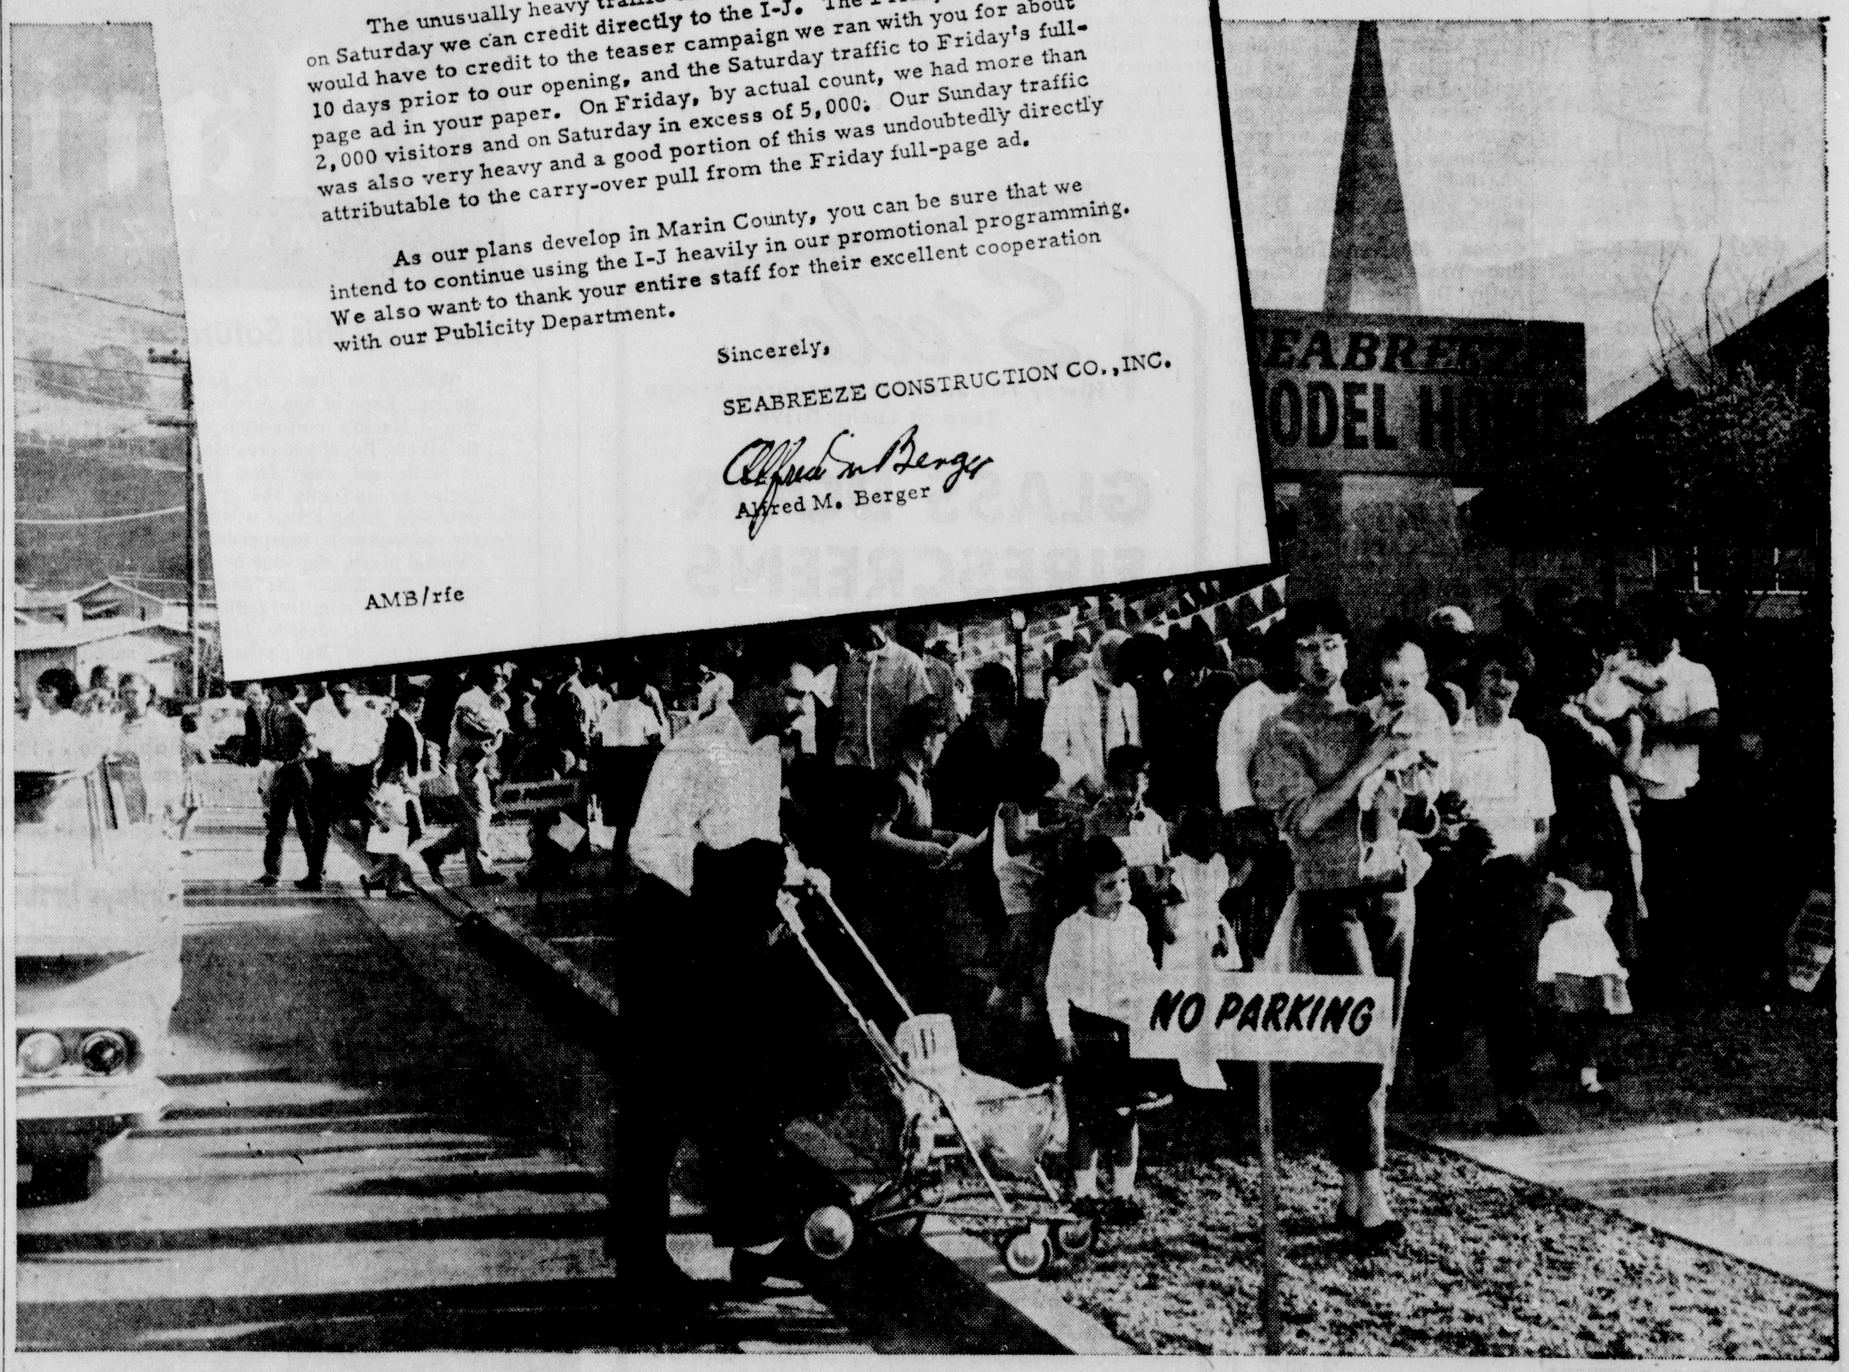

Alfred M. Berger

AMB/rfe

Short story: after ads ran in the Independent-Journal, 5,000 people turned out at Loma Verde on a Saturday ... bought $900,000 worth of new homes over the weekend.

Decorator touches add distinction and quality to this brand new home: painted a chic olive green, trimmed in black; expensive vinyl floors in kitchen, 2½ baths; new touch-switches, handsome light fixtures. Dining room and living room look out on a lovely wooded view; there's an oak-edged deck off the paneled living room, which also features beamed ceilings, handsome rock fireplace. Three bedrooms have double walk-in closets, and the master bedroom also opens to a private deck which nudges an oak tree. The bedrooms are downstairs, where a windowed hall offers space for bookshelves and telephone desk. View, convenience to town.

Immaculate, cheerful, pretty; this three-bedroom, 2-bath home is all on one level, has an enclosed yard for the children to play in, and a wonderful view over the valley. Large living room, Arizona stone fireplace, grass-cloth wall covering. The kitchen is ceramic-tiled, sparkling, large enough for a breakfast table. Both baths are nicely tiled, roomy. INCOME TAX FACTS

Expenses In Work Must Be Reported

By PETER J. WIKEL, C.P.A.

Employees reimbursed expenses are reported on your California and Federal return the same way.

An employee who is not required to account to his employer (or even though required, does not account) must report on his return the total amounts of expenses for travel, transportation, entertainment and other purposes which he incurs under a reimbursement or other arrangement with his employer. Any allowance to the employee must be included in the employee's income.

P. J. Wikel

An employee who is required to account to his employer for his expenses and does so account, will not ordinarily be called upon to substantiate expense account information unless:

1. His expenses exceed the total amounts charged to his employer and he claims a deduction on his return for such excesses; or

2. He is related to his employer or is employed by a company in which he or his family owns more than 50% of the stock; or

3. It is determined that the procedures used by the employer in accounting for these expenses are not adequate.

If you have expenses for travel, entertainment, etc., then you should keep accurate records to back up every item you deduct on your tax return.

The Internal Revenue Service provides Form 2106 for reporting these.

'The Boyfriend' Set At Terra Linda High

"The Boyfriend," a satire on English musical comedies of the 1920s, will open tonight at 8:30 o'clock in the Terra Linda High School gymnasium.

The musical is the first to be presented by Terra Linda High School students. Its cast of 24 is headed by Judy Knotts and Tony Lynott. The musical, written by Sandy Wilson, will be repeated tomorrow at 8:30 p.m. Tickets for both performances will be sold at the door.

Young Republicans Will Hear Cuban

Oscar Gomez, public relations director of Cuban-Christian Unity in San Francisco, will address a meeting of the Young Republicans of Marin Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the Bermuda Palms Motel, 737 Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael.

Gomez came to the United States from Cuba in 1961 after fighting with an underground revolutionary group against Premier Fidel Castro.

MARIN FILM FARE

'Days Of Wine And Roses' Opening

By LES DARD

Here's the picture of pictures in Marin County this weekend:

RAFRAEL THEATER

A love story that turns into an alcoholic tragedy is told brilliantly in "Days of Wine and Roses," which opens Sunday.

Jack Lemmon plays an advertising-public relations man, charter member of the double-martini-for-lunch set. Successful and attractive, he is basically weak.

He meets young Lee Remick at a party. She can't stand the taste of drink, but Lemmon goads her into trying.

They are married. He drinks more. She joins in to avoid his resentment. She begins to like drinking. Result: both become alcoholic.

Time after time, they try to kick the habit. Time after time they fail.

When they have a child, Lemmon straightens up, joins AA and becomes a sober, hard-working father. His wife runs off for a life of alcohol and more sympathetic companions.

NOVATO THEATER

An excellent double bill includes "Two for the Seesaw" and "Damn the Defiant."

The former is a bittersweet love story of a lonesome Nebraska lawyer and an earthy, semi-beatnik ballet dancer in Greenwich Village.

Robert Mitchum stars as an attorney divorcing a rich wife. Shirley MacLaine plays Gittel Mosca, the warm, easy-loving hoyden who gives the lawyer a purpose in life.

"Damn the Defiant" is an excellent 19th Century sea drama.

SEQUOIA THEATER

A comic Fred MacMurray is back in Walt Disney's "Son of Flubber," opening Sunday. It's the sequel to "The Absent-Minded Professor," which the kids are still laughing about.

Fred plays an inventor-professor, and flubber is his flying rubber. His inventions wreak even more havoc in this film than in its predecessor.

101 DRIVE-IN

The whole family can be happy with the double bill showing tonight and tomorrow:

"Ladies' Man" stars the irrepressible Jerry Lewis as the only male working in a lavish hostelry inhabited entirely by women—30 of them.

"Hell Is for Heroes" offers a closeup study of men under fire in World War II. Steve McQueen, Bobby Darin, comedian Bob Newhart and Fess Parker head the top-talent young cast.

LARK THEATER

"Divorce—Italian Style" carries on its campaign of laughter for another week.

The picture is a spoof of Italian law, which permits no divorces. Marcello Mastroianni stars as a nobleman who arranges the murder of his beautiful wife.

Pure delight—for adults.

FAIRFAX THEATER

"Phaedra," modern version of an ancient Greek tale by Euripides in which a woman falls in love with her stepson, is held over at the Fairfax.

Director Jules Dassin has added a few twists of his own, including swathing the entire production in modernity and riches. It stars Melina Mercouri and Tony Perkins.

For adults.

TIBURON PLAYHOUSE

Showing tonight and for the weekend, a fine double bill:

"Breakfast at Tiffany's" stars Audrey Hepburn in one of the gayest, most sophisticated and bizarre comedies America has ever produced.

Audrey plays Holly Golightly, daffy New York playgirl who lives like a million, doesn't have a dime. George Peppard plays the lad who tames her.

"My Geisha" is another charming comedy with an Oriental flavor and exceptional photography, starring Shirley MacLaine, Yves Montand and Edward G. Robinson. When Yves leaves wife Shirley home and goes to Japan, Shirley follows and wins his heart posing as a geisha.

Adult fare.

TAMALPAIS THEATER

A taut suspense drama about three American soldiers during the Korean fighting who are ordered to destroy a prisoner in their custody.

Killing the enemy at a distance has no moral involvement and hence is no problem, but when these soldiers are ordered to kill a man whom they have come to know as another human being, they face a test.

Kirk Douglas stars as the combat-hardened sergeant who discovers he is more human than soldier. Nick Adams and Robert Walker Jr. offer fine support as fellow GIs.

MOTOR MOVIES

The versatile, popular Shirley MacLaine shares stellar honors with Yves Montand in "My Geisha," a charming romantic comedy with an Oriental flavor.

Shirley plays an American screen star; Yves the husband who has acquired fame as her director.
